Former Vice President 90 Today

Old Friends Honor Garner

BY DAVE CHEAVENS

Uvalde, Texas — (AP) — Former Vice President John N. Garner celebrated his 90th birthday today and all over town his friends were predicting he would live to be 100.

Leading a parade of high national and state dignitaries who came here to join in the birthday program and barbecue was former President Harry Truman.

He and Garner embraced warmly and clapped each other on the back last night at the Uvalde airport, where Garner and his son, Tully, met Truman and carried him into town in Tully's car.

Receive Newsmen
Truman passed up his usual early morning walk today, he said, "to attend to more important business." That was a private visit with his old political friend at Garner's home.

Truman and Garner talked together privately for about 30 minutes, then let newsmen enter.

Garner told Truman, "There are more of these shooting things (cameras) here today than I have seen since the night I left Washington." He referred to his departure after retiring as vice president in 1941.

er retiring as vice president in 1941.

Truman replied, "Yes, I know. I was there."

Garner then remarked: "The boss and myself were coming out together and one of these newsmen asked me, 'Did you kiss him?' I said, 'No, but I should have. I loved Roosevelt. He was a man worthy of love and he returned it.'"

Truman interrupted him. "You loved him and so did I. There never was a finer man than Mr. Roosevelt."

Garner added, "He was a very sweet man. But I didn't want any czars. But we got along very well."

Then Garner turned to Truman and said he thought the country should follow a policy of allowing a president from the Republican party to serve to the life of the nation. As a four years and if he makes good, "Let him stay another four. Then let a Democrat try for four years, and if he makes good let him stay another four."

On point on which Roosevelt and Garner disagreed was the late president's desire for a third term.

Truman again interrupted and said, "The trouble with that plan is, you can't trust these damned Republicans."

To start the official celebration, Paul Wakefield, president of the Texas Heritage foundation, presented Garner a distinguished service medal from the organization.

Truman gave Garner an autographed catalog of the Truman library, including an autographed picture of former President and Mrs. Truman.

"Bess says to tell you she is coming down to help you celebrate your 100th birthday," Truman said.

Letter from Ike

"That's fine," said Garner. "The way I feel now, I will make it."

A letter from President Eisenhower said: "As a leading American statesman for a half century you have contributed much to the life of the nation. As a distinguished son of Texas, you have become a legend in a legendary state, and now in retirement you can survey the scene with some satisfaction, and I pray with contentment in your years."

"On your 90th birthday it is a privilege to join your many friends in wishing you the best."

There were piles of letters from governors and others in public life.

U. S. Policy in Far East Hit

By Red Premier

Chou Says Aim Is To Enslave Japan, Split Korea, China

London — (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai of communist China launched a blistering attack on American foreign policy in the Far East today. He declared:

"There is no doubt that China's Taiwan (Formosa), Penghu, Quemoy and Matsu will certainly be liberated."

Chou accused the United States of carrying out a "war plan to enslave Japan, split Korea and create two Chinas." Peiping radio reported Chou was addressing a banquet for a North Korean government delegation visiting China. North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung led the delegation, which Peiping radio said was given a tumultuous greeting, with crowds lining the streets throwing flowers, confetti and firecrackers.

Raps UN Resolution
Chou said withdrawal of Chinese troops from North Korea "opened the way for a peaceful settlement of the Korean question, but the U.S. imperialists have all along refused to withdraw their forces of aggression from Korea."

He denounced the 13-nation U.N. resolution on Korea, which called for a unified independent Korea to be set up by holding free elections.

"This shows once again that the United States, in defiance of the desire of the Korean people and the peace-loving people of the world, is bent on domination of the southern part of Korea at bayonet point and obstructing the peaceful unification of Korea by the Korean people themselves."

"The U.S. imperialists are attempting to continue their occupation of Japan, and, using Japan as a base, to keep on threatening the Chinese and Korean people from the southern part of Korea and from Taiwan and the Penghu islands."

"This is a war plan to enslave Japan, split Korea and create two Chinas."

"This plan . . . appears to be very daring, yet they (the Americans) are in reality throwing themselves into a net—the inescapable net cast by the peoples of the countries in the east to exterminate the imperialist aggressors."

"The American paper tiger which has already been poked by the heroic Korean of a heat pipe line at Stevens and Chinese peoples can intimidate no one."

Red Press Demanding Withdrawal

BY REINHOLD G. ENSZ

Berlin — (AP) — The Russians kept the western Big Three waiting today on the next Soviet move in the crisis of Berlin.

The press in communist East Germany kept up a din for the Americans, British and French to get out of West Berlin, but no note to the three powers came from Moscow as expected.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said yesterday the western allies would get notes on the 4-power occupation of Berlin from the Kremlin some time today. He made the statement after a talk with Andrei Smirnov, Soviet ambassador to West Germany.

The official communist newspaper Neues Deutschland declared the western allies were endangering world peace by continuing their occupation in the former German capital.

By remaining in the city, the paper said, they are "playing with fire and thereby bringing more than Berlin into danger."

West German officials advocated a tough western policy of using tanks and fighter planes if necessary to maintain the links between Berlin and West Germany.

Reds Control Roads
Berlin is 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain, and all its roads, rail, water and air routes for supplying the 10,000 American, British and French troops in West Berlin are at the mercy of the communists.

Twelve days ago, Soviet Premier Khrushchev said Russia was ready to drop out of the 4-power control of the city that has been maintained since World War II. He said the west should do likewise and would have to make arrangements with East Germany, which the west does not recognize, if it wanted to maintain links to Berlin.

Heinrich van Brentano, West German foreign minister, flew into Berlin for talks with Mayor Willy Brandt of West Germany on the threatened squeeze against the western position here.

Prison Question
Der Abend, a West Berlin newspaper, said 4-power negotiations were underway on the future of Spandau prison in West Berlin which still houses Rudolf Hess, Albert Speer and Baldur von Schirach, three high-ranking Nazis convicted of war crimes.

If the Soviet Union pulls out of the 4-power setup in Berlin, it might drop its share of control over the prison too, the paper suggested.

French officials here and the British foreign office in London denied knowledge of any such negotiations.

There was no indication when the Soviet Union might carry out its announced plans to turn over to the communist East German government control of allied communications to Berlin in an effort to force the western powers to abandon their position in the former German capital.

Several ambassadors had been reported summoned to the Soviet foreign ministry in Moscow today "to receive an important document," presumably on Soviet intentions for Berlin.

Bridge Pilings, Piers
Contract Approved

Madison — (AP) — Gov. Vernon Thomson Friday approved a contract for erecting deep water steel piling and piers to support the new highway bridge connecting Superior and Duluth.

The pilings and piers will cost $1,859,628 and will be sunk in St. Louis bay and Howard's Pocket. The contract calls for eight piers and 12 protective dolphins.

The contract was awarded to the Kansas City Bridge Co. and Piper, Inc., of Minneapolis.

The governor also approved highway contracts worth $1,121,220, calling for work in Douglas, Dunn, Eau Claire, Jefferson, La Crosse and Monroe, Racine and Rock counties.

2 Missing in Superior Fire

6 Escape When 3-Story Apartment Building Burns

Superior — (AP) — Two residents of an old 3-story apartment building were missing today after a fire and a blast that sent flames into every corner of the brick and frame structure Friday.

Martin Albertson, 72, was believed dead in the debris which still was burning beneath caved-in walls today. Frank Heistad, 70, another resident, also was missing but authorities said they were not sure he was in the wreckage of the destroyed structure.

Reported in Duluth
Officers said they had one report that Heistad had been seen in adjacent Duluth, Minn., two hours after the fire, but this report was unconfirmed.

Six other persons escaped without injury but one fireman was hurt.

Police said a bartender related he had sold two pints of wine to Albertson, who said he was going back to his room. An unidentified woman said she attempted to drag Albertson out of the building but was unable to move him.

Motorist William Manion, who stopped when he spotted the blaze, was credited with alerting building residents with his warning shouts of "Fire! Fire!" Manion awakened Mrs. Helen Johnson and her son, Donald, 2, who had been napping and helped them to safety.

Outer Space Talks Halted

United Nations, N.Y. — (AP) — The United States and its supporters abandoned attempts at outer space negotiations with the Russians and pushed a take-it-or-leave-it proposal today.

The 20 associated nations decided to act on their own after talks broke down between the United States and Russia over makeup of a committee to make recommendations for U.N. supervision of peaceful exploration of outer space.

The group, which already had put a space resolution before the U.N. General Assembly's political committee, decided to submit a new draft without further talks with the Soviets. The revised draft was handed in here last night.

The western plan, which diplomats hoped would win Soviet approval despite the breakdown in talks, calls for an 18-nation study group that would lay the groundwork for a permanent U.N. space committee.

TWA Operations at Standstill in Strike

7,000 Mechanics Walk Out And Firm Grounds Airliners

Kansas City, Mo. — (AP) — The world-wide operations of TWA, the nation's fourth largest air line, were at a standstill today as the result of a strike by 7,000 union mechanics.

The mechanics walked off the job — some of them reluctantly — yesterday. The company said it would furnish, without pay, most of its 12,000 other employees. Flights in progress were allowed to continue to their destinations, but no new flights were started.

The TWA walkout began as other union mechanics voted to end a 37-day strike against Capital Airlines, which operates east of the Mississippi river. Capital said it would resume its flights tomorrow.

Others Reach Accords
Capital was the second airline to reach agreement with the International Association of Machinists. Northwest settled with the IAM last Monday. Besides TWA, the union is engaged in contract disputes with Eastern and Northeast. The latter two have not been struck.

Another airline — American — is threatened with a strike by the Air Line Pilots association. An ALPA spokesman said in Chicago last night that a tentative strike deadline of 11:59 p.m. (local time) Tuesday had been set for 1,541 pilots employed by American.

As the TWA mechanics left their jobs, there was evidence that some didn't have their hearts in the strike. Fourteen of them, employed at the TWA overhaul base here, asked the International union to remove Cliff Miller, chairman of the union's District 142, which embraces TWA mechanics. A spokesman said they asked the international to name a trustee to take over TWA negotiations from Miller. The spokesman said the request was made in a telephone call to A.L.J. Hayes, international president, in Washington.

In a recent election, 63.8 percent of the members voted against the TWA's latest contract proposal, the union said. An unidentified union member was quoted by the Kansas City Star today as saying the ballooning violated secrecy provisions of the union constitution. He said voters were required to write their names and addresses on the top half of the ballots, and mark their votes for or against the company proposal on the bottom half. Only the bottom half was placed in the ballot box, he was quoted as saying, but the two halves bore identical numbers and the top had to be turned in.

Crowley Denies Fighting With Brother-in-Law

Tokyo — (AP) — Former Yale football star Joseph P. Crowley today told a Japanese court he never had a "fist fight" with his brother-in-law and business associate T. A. D. Jones, Jr., "any time or any place" in his life.

Crowley was asked by defense counsel whether the name Fred Inbau, professor of police science at Northwestern university, ever came up in Japanese examinations before he was indicted. Crowley replied yes. Inbau reportedly had sent a report to the Japanese police claiming Crowley had been in a fist fight with Jones before coming to Japan.

Crowley, 49, took the stand in his own defense before three black-robed Japanese judges headed by Presiding Judge Saburo Yashima in the out a good reason brings a juryless Tokyo District court. 2-pound ($4.20) fine.

Church Group Asks Recognition Of Red China, Admission Into UN

Cleveland — (AP) — Pronouncements of the Fifth World Order Study conference, which came out for disarmament and recognition of red China, "give evidence that the churches are ready to take steps forward in a bold approach to world peace."

That is the view of the Rev. Edwin T. Dahlberg of St. Louis, president of the National Council of Churches, which sponsored the conference here.

5,000-Word Message
Mr. Dahlberg commented after the 4-day conference wound up yesterday:

"It is to be hoped that our government and the United Nations will take to heart the messages and findings of this conference."

The "message to the churches" urged that steps "be taken toward the inclusion of the Peoples Republic of China (red China) in the United Nations and for its recognition by our government." Recognition does not imply approval, the statement of policy declared.

The 5,000-word document, approved unanimously by the 600 delegates in a voice vote, calls on every Christian "to seize the initiative in the prevention of war and the achievement of peace in a world of intercontinental ballistic, thermo-nuclear weapons and platforms in outer-space for missile launching sites."

The message said the development of modern weapons puts us "always on the brink of annihilation."

The conference assembly took issue with one of its sectional groups, which, in a separate report, called for abolishment of military conscription and renounced the concept of nuclear retaliation as a deterrent to war.

The conference adopted a supplementary resolution saying:

"Such peace as there is today, precarious as it may be, rests to some measure on the capability for nuclear retaliation. The world's hope of achieving international agreements leading toward universal disarmament may similarly rest in part on that capability."

Red Cooperation Vital
Ernest A. Gross, conference chairman and former U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, had a statement, subsequently incorporated with the message to the churches, in which he presented arguments in favor of admission of red China to the United Nations.

In it he said the "assertion that lawless behavior on the part of a nation is a group for excluding it from the organized society of nations ignores the rudimentary requirements of world order."

He said the cooperation of red China is essential to the effective operation of disarmament programs.

The conference message dealt also with civil rights and is his policy which keeps the urged a more liberal, imaginative program of economic aid to peoples of other countries.

2 Nuns and Man Die In Automobile Crash

2 Cars Collide at Intersection At Dodge-Fond du Lac County Line

Milwaukee — (AP) — Two Roman Catholic nuns and a Racine county man were killed and two other nuns and two men were injured critically Friday in a 2-car crash on Highway 41 near the Dodge-Fond du Lac county line.

Their deaths and those of three other men in separate accidents raised Wisconsin's traffic toll for the year to 724, compared with 809 at this time a year ago.

The dead nuns were Sister Mary Siriana, 48, and Sister Marty Carissa, about 40, both of Our Lady of Perpetual Help school, Glenview, Ill.

The third victim of the crash was Wayne F. Peterson, 30, of route 5, Burlington. His injured companions are Arthur Henning, 20, route 1, Burlington, and Gerald J. Cramer, 20, route 5, Burlington.

The injured nuns are Sister Mary Morina, 29, assigned to the Order of St. Francis mother house in Milwaukee, and Sister Mary Roberto, 31, of Alvernia High school, Chicago.

A spokesman at the mother house in Milwaukee said the nuns were returning from the order's Memorial hospital in Waupun where they had visited another sick nun. Two of those in the auto party also received medical attention while at the hospital.

Collide at Crossing
Police were told by witnesses that the autos collided at the intersection of Highways 41 and 49 as the sisters' car crossed 41. The nuns' car was thrown some distance in the air and overturned several times before coming to rest in a field. Authorities said Sister Siriana was driving the auto.

Anton Benz, 76, was struck by a car and killed Friday night as he walked along Highway 29 two miles west of Wausau. He was only a short distance from his home.

Henry Wallner, 45, of Wausau was killed early today when two cars carrying deer hunters collided on Highway 47 about six miles west of Woodruff. Four others in the two cars were hospitalized but none was reported in serious condition.

William Wolters, 66, Hillsboro, was killed Friday night when his car failed to negotiate a curve and struck a culvert on Highway 71, two miles northwest of Elroy.

Daily Worker Tries To Embarrass Nixon

London — (AP) — The communist Daily Worker today called a mass meeting and a march to the U.S. embassy in protest against the visit of Vice President Richard Nixon to London.

The meeting, scheduled for next Tuesday, has been organized by the London district of Britain's communist party. A 5-column story in the Daily Worker indicated the theme of the meeting. It will be: "Go home Nixon."

The article said "Nixon personifies the drive to war. It is his policy which keeps the H-bombers flying constantly over Britain and uses our island as an advanced American missile base."

$3.5 Million For Buildings

UW Library and Gymnasium Units Included in Funds

Madison — (AP) — About $3,500,000 was released to various state departments by the Wisconsin Building commission late Friday for the construction of new state buildings.

The commission allocated funds for building a new library at Madison at a cost of $650,000 and $2 million units of a new gym at the University of Wisconsin's Madison campus.

Also on the list were a $100,000 laboratory farm at Platteville State college, an $85,000 print shop at the Delavan Deaf school, a $1 million laboratory at Whitewater State college and funds for plans and specifications for college buildings at Platteville, Menomonie, River Falls and Oshkosh State colleges.

The commission also approved a contract for a new state office building at Wisconsin Rapids at a cost of $750,000 and $50,000 for the purchase of 10 acres of land at La Crosse for an office sors.

The commission also released $140,000 for the installation through by the heroic Korean of a heat pipe line at Stevens and Chinese peoples can intimidate no one."

$150,000 Addition Atop Warehouse Is Set by Thilmany

Bids to be Taken Dec. 10 for Construction Within 5 Months

Kaukauna — Thilmany Pulp and Paper company will spend about $150,000 building office space atop one of its Kaukauna warehouses, starting in mid-December.

Sauter and Seaborne, Architects, said Friday bids on the project are returnable Dec. 10. Construction will take about five months.

The warehouse is at the upper mill, just south of the main office on Canal street. The 102 by 80-foot, single story structure is used to store finished paper before shipment. Addition of a second floor, they said, will provide space for about 60 workers of Thilmany's sales force who will move from cramped quarters in the main office.

Provide for Shifts

Construction will require removal of the warehouse roof and building of a floor for the second story about 16 feet above the present floor.

Pre-cast concrete slabs that will be used for the added flooring will be unique, the architects said, in that they will have a pattern of holes to permit moving of electrical outlets as desks are shifted from time to time.

Another unique feature, they said, will be a fibre glass duct in the acoustical tile of the office ceiling to provide more uniform distribution of heat and air-conditioning.

Windows will employ solar grey glass that cuts down sun ray heat infiltration and brightness.

The present steel truss roof will be replaced with one of steel joist and concrete deck.

When work is done, the first floor again will be used to store finished paper prior to shipment, Sauter and Seaborne said.

Face St. Benedict
Sunday Afternoon
At Little Chute Gym

Little Chute — In the first home game of the season, the St. John High school basketball team will meet St. Benedict of Milwaukee at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Junior varsity teams of the two schools will meet in a preliminary at 1:15 p. m.

St. Benedict is a colored team and played their first series with the Chuters last year. St. John scored a pair of triumphs, beating the Milwaukeeans here 53 to 47 and, on their home court 60 to 40.

Six Lettermen

Coach Bill Fitzpatrick has eight players with good experience to select from for his starting lineup. Guards include Tom Schuler, Tim Tousey, Mike Bongers, Don Hermens, and Andy Ebben; forwards are Ed Hammen and Gary Versteegen and center is Tom Geerts.

Of the eight all except Bongers and Versteegen are lettermen. Versteegen was the second ranking scorer on the junior varsity team last year and is expected to add rebound height to the St. John defense.

This will be the second of three games in five days for the Chuters. Friday night they played Freedom and Tuesday they will travel to Beaver Dam to meet Wayland academy.

Night Parking Ordinance to Be Enforced

Kaukauna — Residents have inquired about the 1 to 5 a. m. parking ordinance in the city, which is effective from Dec. 1 to April 1, according to Harold V. Engerson, chief of police.

People are seeking permission to leave cars in the street because of soft driveways or lack of suitable space to put a vehicle. No exceptions will be permitted this year, the chief advised. The ordinance states cars must be off city streets between these hours, and officers are being instructed to enforce the law, he said.

Valuation Boost Hikes Taxes Despite Lower Little Chute Rate

Village's Budget Over $300,000

For First Time in Its History

Little Chute — The village's budget is over $300,000 for the first time in its history, but the tax rate may drop $3, the village board's tentative 1959 budget indicates.

A 25 per cent hike in all assessed valuations causes the rate reduction. With higher valuations, property owners will be paying more taxes despite the rate cut. The rate cut is about 7 per cent, so taxpayers will have roughly an 18 per cent tax boost.

The proposed tax rate is $40 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, compared to $33 last year. This rate is for properly owned in School District No. 1.

Little Chute is unique, with three districts within the village. Three separate tax rates must be set.

Public hearing on the budget will be at 7 p. m. Tuesday. The tax rate in School District No. 2 tentatively is set at $38, down $6.00 from this year's $44.90, and $38 for School District No. 8, down $2.63 from this year's $40.63.

Assessed valuation for the village is $5,461,365, an increase of $1,066,435 over this year's $4,394,930. The boost is about 10 per cent on the state's equalized value, 25 per cent on local assessments.

Total budget for 1959 will be $304,018 compared to $279,658 this year. Revenues other than property taxes total $86,096, making a tax levy of $217,922 for 1959. This year revenues were $90,360 and the tax levy was $189,298, or $28,624 under 1958's.

The decline in revenues expected in 1959 is because there will be no curb and gutter assessments such as the Highway 96 or Main avenue improvements this year. Approximately $11,000 in curb and gutter assessments provided revenues this year.

School Increases

Major increase in the budget for 1959 comes in the three school districts. General expenditures and state and county taxes are up slightly. However, costs for the three school districts are $70,085 for 1959 compared to $52,326 this year, or $17,759 higher.

School District No. 1 shows the largest jump, with $65,501 needed in 1959 compared to $48,247 this year, $17,254 higher. Because of the new six classroom addition, more teachers and operating costs boost the school budget.

School District No. 2 will receive $4,455 in 1959 compared to $4,005 this year. District No. 8, affecting only a few outlying property owners, will get $128 next year compared to $79 received this year.

Of the $40 per $1,000 that property owners in District No. 1 will pay, $3.02 goes for county and state tax and vocational schools, $6.71 is for high school tuition and transportation, $12.61 goes to the school district and the village levy is $12.66.

District No. 2 rate

In district No. 2 where the rate is $38, county, state and vocational schools will receive $8.02, there are no high school tuition or transportation charges, $17.50 is for the school district and $12.48 is the village levy.

District No. 8 also will have a $38 rate, with $8.02 for county, state and vocational schools, $6.71 for high school tuition and transportation, $10.70 for school district and $12.57 is the village levy.

Expenditures for operation and maintenance of the village include $19,150 for general government costs, compared to $17,550 this year. Protection of person and property is up to $32,100 in 1959 from $29,386 this year.

Health and sanitation costs are $1,136 for 1959 compared to $1,360 spent this year. Charity and relief expenses are set at $2,500 the same as this year. Costs for highways are expected to be $58,000 next year compared to $51,500 this year. The increase is for an additional $3,300 for street lighting and $2,500 for repairing the drawbridge.

Recreation Costs

Recreation costs are set at $9,000 in 1959, $1,000 over the amount spent this year. Education expenses will be $1,500, the same as this year. Virginia on Integration

The state of Virginia, which has been a powerful block of resistance to the Supreme Court's school desegregation order, may finally prove to be the pivot on which sentiment in the South eventually will turn. This is suggested by the Louisville Courier-Journal which is close enough to the South to have a good knowledge of the segregation situation.
The officials in Virginia have stood firmly on what they believe to be legal grounds for resisting the supreme court's order. Sen. Harry F. Byrd and Gov. J. Lindsay Almond have been leaders in the policy of "massive resistance" which has been strongly supported by the Virginia legislature. However, it now appears that the Virginia leaders are willing to consider local option in the matter of integration. This is a sharp change from Virginia's stand in the past and may be one of the most significant happenings since the Supreme Court announced its opinion May 17, 1954. The position of Virginia is believed to be important because that state has based its opposition on purely legal arguments and has therefore seemed to lend respectability to the movement, despite the insupportable activities of people like Gov. Faubus of Arkansas.
Under present state law the governor must close any Virginia school rather than permit it to integrate. If this law should be changed, which now appears possible to permit local option on the question, it is regarded as likely that a number of Virginia schools would reopen as integrated units. This view may be an unduly hopeful one but there are some indications that many white parents prefer integrated schools to no school at all.
Right now some Virginia cities have no schools in operation. Something like 13,000 to 15,000 students are out of school in Norfolk, Charlottesville and other Virginia cities. The closing of the schools by state officials is no solution to the problem. While a referendum held in Norfolk recently supported the position of the state officials by a vote of about 12,000 to 8,000, the vote was in fact an advisory referendum and has no legal standing.

Immediately after the vote was known, a group of white parents went into federal court at Norfolk with a request that the court strike down Virginia's laws and order the reopening of the six padlocked schools. The parents are asking that the segregation laws be ruled unconstitutional and that the state officials be enjoined from enforcing them. Since it is very probable that the Virginia laws will be found to be contrary to the Supreme Court's ruling on the Constitution, an order may be expected which will put the case squarely up to the Virginia officials. If that were to come about the people of Virginia would have the option of opening integrated schools or of setting up a system of private schools.
In that event it is quite likely that a number of schools will open immediately on an integrated basis and perhaps, after others have explored the probable cost of operating private schools, they too might swing over to the idea of integration. The private school in fact is a very expensive undertaking and where there is no overall organization ready to handle it, such as the parochial schools have in their churches, the problem is almost insurmountable. Therefore, in many instances it will probably be found easier, cheaper and more satisfactory to integrate the schools as the Supreme Court has ordered.

Measuring High School Work

James Allen, able commissioner of the New York state department of education, has suggested that high schools put in a minimum ceiling test in order to raise the value of a high school diploma.
Allen quite accurately bases his suggestion on the fact that a fair number of high school graduates don't do justice to the term. They have spent four years in high school, but they have not studied or they did not comprehend. A diploma offered by such a student to a prospective employer is worthless as far as indicating his capabilities.
Such students fall roughly into two classes — those who do not make the attempt to learn, and those who simply can't. A test such as Allen suggests, which would indicate that a diploma holder had achieved "a minimum degree of competence in, for instance, the fields of reading, spelling, arithmetic and civic understanding," would not differentiate between these two types. Tests, moreover, are not reliable. It is probably necessary to have certain grades in tests required for college scholarships. But the interest with which colleges examine a student's high school record, leadership signs, outside activities and ability potential as well as entrance examination results indicates that far more than a high or low mark in one or two tests is desired.

'Togetherness' for the White Race

The Associated Press, in a brief dispatch from Princeton, N. J., quotes Sen. Wiley as telling a university debating group:
The whole white race must get together. What happens if China gets the intercontinental missile? If India gets it? What happens to the white race? The white race hasn't always been dominant.
That's the quotation attributed to the senator, and it is almost incredible that the senior Republican member and former chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee gave voice to such balderdash, even assuming that it was taken out of context.
The "yellow peril" was provocative and horrendous at the turn of the century. Many articles about it appeared in publications, and it was a good, safe topic for politicians, but it lent itself best to fiction. Jack London, for instance, wrote a story, The Unparalleled Invasion, in which China, the protege of Japan, threatened to conquer the world. The white race was saved only by blockading China at all her borders and exterminating the villains by merciless germ warfare.

To get back to fact, is America to renounce her non-white allies, such as the staunch Filipinos, South Koreans and Chinese Nationalists? What becomes of the American Indian, Negro and Puerto Rican? Is the Soviet Union to look half to the West and half to the Orient?
For that matter, what if communist China and neutralist India do get atomic and hydrogen bombs and missiles? With their dense populations, would they find national suicide any more attractive than a "white" nation?

More on Pasternak

The affair of Boris Pasternak has snatched the sheepskin from the Russian wolf and has revealed the fangs for all the world to see. But there are some other angles which are interesting legally if not internationally. And there is one mystery.
Pasternak sold the publishing rights of his book Dr. Zhivago to the Italian communist firm of Feltrinelli which subleased the rights in various countries and languages including English. Royalties from sales go back to Feltrinelli to be held in trust for Pasternak in case he gets out of Russia.
However, the University of Michigan Press also is bringing out a Russian version of the book and a New York Russian newspaper has been running it serially. The argument here is that, since Pasternak is a Soviet citizen, to date at least, and Russia is not a party to the international copyright agreement, there is nothing to restrict further publications. However, the fact that Pasternak sold the rights to a firm in a country which is a party to the agreement poses another legal problem. Anyway the royalties from the Michigan publication will also be held in trust for Pasternak.

But there is still another question. At the Brussels World Fair a handful of unidentified people stood in front of the Soviet Pavilion and handed out free copies of the book published in Russian. Who were the donors, the publishers, the brave young people who dared distribute the book? Those who know are not saying or have not been caught.

Thanksgiving

High on a hill in the dawning
I look far out into space
I see much to be thankful for Much in life's glorious race

I'm thankful for splashing rivers
Water for me when I thirst
Thankful for fruits of the harvest
The barns are ready to burst

I'm thankful for light of the sun
For rain that freshens the day
I'm thankful for the night for rest
I'm thankful for time to play

I'm thankful for many good friends
Thankful for those who are dear
Thankful for some understanding
For hope that is always near

I'm thankful for full forgiveness
When I caused a fallen tear
I'm thankful for the upward look
That turns away all my fear

I'm thankful for the Creator
For promise of life through time
Thankful for things of this great world
I'm thankful for all that's mine

GOP Won't Invite Obstructionist Label

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Madison — Notes from the cuff of a political reporter:
The Republicans, like the Democrats, will hold a quiet caucus well before the time of convening of the legislature in January to consider their changed position in the new legislative session.
The current disposition of the Republican majority in the state senate, by all accounts, is to give the new administration its lead as far as possible. The shrewd men of the upper house Republican majority don't propose to invite the obstructionist label.
Democratic Chairman Patrick J. Lucey may decide to quit his job before the next party convention, but the chances are that he will stay on until that time to permit the party organization as a whole to make the selection of his successor. Lucey believes the man who will be in charge of the 1960 campaign should get an early start, and he doesn't propose to stick around that long. Party duties take too much and costly time from his real estate sales business, he has told friends.

Two of the principal staffers of the Republican state headquarters here, at the least, will stay on to work at the job of rebuilding the GOP campaign machinery. They are George Greeley, the executive secretary, and Ed Terrill, the director of field work.
Nusbaum's legal name is simply "Joe," and he is busy explaining to reporters that there is no particular story attached to the fact. He was christened "Joe," and he likes it that way.

Public Doesn't Want U. S. to Fight for Islands

BY ELMO ROPER AND ASSOCIATES
Democratic campaign criticisms of administration foreign policy centered on the government's handling of the re-erupted crisis in the Formosa straits. The administration's apparent willingness to risk war over the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu was called unnecessary, reckless, and contrary to the wishes of the American public.
The answers of a national cross-section, surveyed during the heat of the recent crisis, indicate that (1) only about half of the public had any acquaintance with the situation off the China coast, and (2) informed or not, the vast majority of the public was firmly opposed to seeing the United States become involved in a fight to keep the offshore islands in the hands of the Chinese Nationalists.
Asked to name "the islands that the Communist Chinese forces have recently been bombarding," the public answered in this way:

Roper

terial but we should not let our troops get involved in fighting there
We should stop supporting the Chinese Nationalists altogether
Express no opinion
Nor is there much enthusiasm for a fight on our part in defense of the main Chinese Nationalist stronghold, the island of Formosa. Adding together the people who would fight to hold the offshore islands and those who would send U. S. troops to defend Formosa, the total comes to just over one-third of the public. This group is opposed by another third who think our aid to Chiang Kai-shek's forces should stop at arms and supplies, as well as a smaller group who think "We should stop supporting the Chinese Nationalists altogether."
Since only 45 per cent could name one or both of the islands under communist bombardment, it is clear that much of the opinion reported above has been formed with little regard for the specific facts in the controversy. Among those people having some familiarity with the situation (enough to name one or both of the islands in question) and also having some general acquaintance with national and foreign affairs (enough to name the secretary of defense) there was a greater willingness to commit our troops. But even among this group, which represented about one-fifth of the people interviewed, only 24 per cent were willing to have U. S. troops defend the offshore islands. If Formosa were at stake, another 28 per cent would favor U. S. troop action if needed. But 42 per cent of this informed group would oppose such involvement even then.

Sentiment for U. S. troop involvement is strongest in that part of the country closest geographically to far eastern affairs — the American far west. Such sentiment is weakest in the south. But in no part of the country is there any substantial support for U. S. action in defense of the offshore islands:

North-east Pct.	Mid-west Pct.	South Pct.	Far West Pct.
13	21	13	18
24	17	15	28
38	32	28	34
13	15	18	8
12	15	26	12

We should fight if necessary to help the Chinese Nationalists to keep control of Quemoy and Matsu
We should not fight over Quemoy and Matsu but we should fight if necessary to help the Chinese Nationalists hold on to Formosa
We should continue giving the Chinese nationalists arms and material but we should not let our troops get involved in fighting there
We should stop supporting the Chinese Nationalists altogether
Express no opinion
A future column will report public opinion of Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the Chinese Nationalists, and opinion as to his chances of returning to power on the Chinese mainland.

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

With Gen. Abboud's coup in Sudan, a military man now holds the seat of power in most countries. But in the U. S. he seems too preoccupied to sit down.
California's Gov.-elect Pat Brown tours the country. His daily denials of presidential ambitions may cause rival candidates to demand equal time.
Democratic liberals vow again to end senate filibusters. The senate spends every spring talking and every fall talking about not talking so much.

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Nov. 22, 1879.
Lisle Lester was made a member of the New York Press Club, the second woman to ever belong.
Miss Lester was one of the pioneer pupils of Lawrence university, studying on the scholarship No. 2, the use of which was tendered her by her uncle, Mason C. Darling.
She is remembered in Appleton as Sophy Walker. She published the first magazine in Wisconsin entitled "The Badger State Monthly." She was one of the honorary members of the Wisconsin Editorial Association.
She went to California at an early date and owned and published the "Pacific Monthly," and early magazine of the Golden State. Some years after, she visited the Sandwich Islands and South America as a correspondent for San Francisco and New York papers.
Her desire and ambition was to be a standard historical writer, but she has spent more time in travel and study than in writing for that ultimate object.
She has recently returned from a two years lecture tour in the West Indies and is under contract for 10 lectures to be delivered this winter.
The first article ever printed from her pen appeared in the Crescent — a bit of imagery called "A Railroad to the Moon."

'Mardi Gras' Star-Studded, Gay Musical

Boy-Meets-Girl Story Coming to Rio Next Wednesday

BY LILLIAN MACKESY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

An engaging musical comedy well worth seeing is "Mardi Gras," which features a cast of some of the brightest young people in Hollywood at their best.

The movie, previewed Thursday at the 20th Century-Fox building in Chicago, will show at the Rio theater in Appleton next Wednesday.

It's a boy-meets-girl bit, only in quadruplicate, which helps keep the plot a-bubbling. Four young men from a military academy find romantic interests at the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. From there on, in the plot thickens in a light-hearted manner. There's a mere touch of sadness but it moves on to a glorious happy action and seem to be having ending in the traditional way of all true musical comedies.

Pat Boone and the French star, Christine Carere, carry the honors of the main love story in a tender, provocative manner guaranteed to make all teenagers sigh and swoon. Pat sings "I'll Remember Tonight," to his girl in a garden scene and the lovely Christine chimes in with a half French and half English version. It's done very nicely.

Comedian Crosby But the man who takes the comedy honors to almost steal the show is young Gary any previous administration. Crosby, in the role of a fast-talking, wise-cracking cadet been an underdeveloped area who is up to his neck in sky-for a long time, but it has blue schemes that get his buddies in trouble. Right behind him for top acting is Tommy Sands; he sings about Texas in good humorous style.

Two gals in the piece do right well for themselves, too. Sherree North sings, dances, and delivers some fast-cracking lines; Barrie Chase plays a clever turnabout role that ends with her talented dancing.

For once, here's a movie musical that seems to have its tunes dreamed up to support the plot, to help tell the story or set the scene. Too many times it's the other way around.

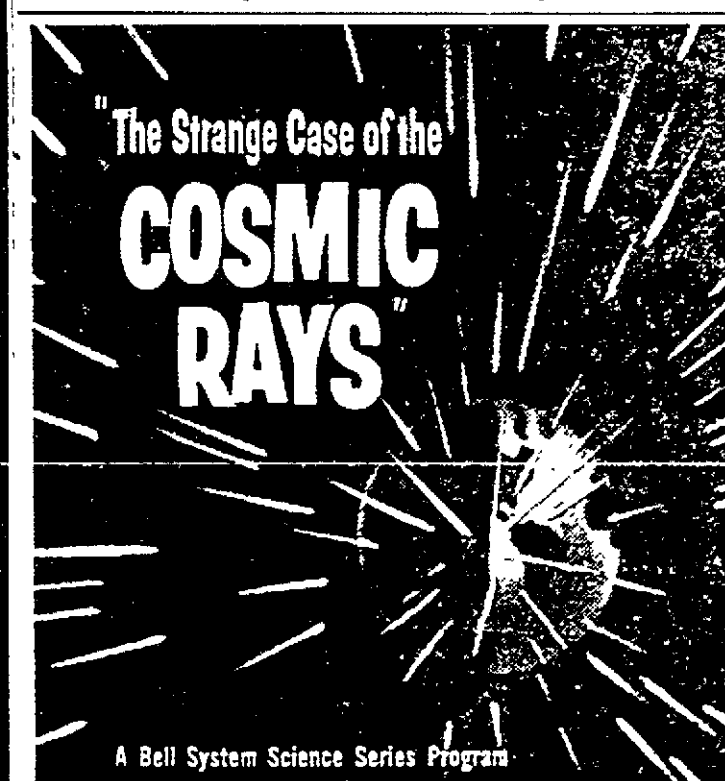

Bright Comedy The backgrounds are authentic, the Virginia Military institute at Lexington, Va., and New Orleans during the Mardi Gras. It's an interesting movie just to see how student life goes on at a military school and to watch the colorful parade floats, grotesque figures and unusual costumes at the Mardi Gras.

It's bright comedy from beginning to end, including a sly poke at the motion picture industry for its publicity habits. This is done through the character of veteran comedian Fred Clark.

There also are some high spots of humor among the VMI cadets who get into the moves on to a glorious happy action and seem to be having a fine time doing it.

Thanksgiving Flowers have become as traditional as the turkey on the table believes the Riverside Greenhouses, 1236 E. Pacific street. Cut flowers and plants serve as excellent "thanks-for-your-invitation" gifts for those who have been invited to someone else's home for Thanksgiving, the florists pointed out, adding that a thoughtful gift of colorful flowers will bring much cheer at the festive table. Riverside Greenhouses suggest that orders or Thanksgiving centerpieces, bouquets or plants be placed as early as possible to assure best selections, and prompt service. Floral telegraph service is available to almost every point in the nation, they remind for the benefit of those who are unable to go home for Thanksgiving this year. Phone number at Riverside Greenhouse is 3-6649. The greenhouse will be open Thanksgiving Day morning till 12 o'clock noon.

People, Whose Ideas Are Even more important than articles in magazines and newspapers, have for a long time been exclaiming the virtues of Cornish Pasties (pronounced "Pass-Tees"), contends Schmieder's Delicatessen, 525 South Memorial Drive, Appleton. Pastie fanciers are somewhat like martini drinkers: some like them mixed three to one, some four to one; others like a touch of dry sherry, and some just pass the vermouth cork over the mixer, the firm says.

So — in the making of Schmieder's Pasties — the firm has over a period of years perfected a recipe for making Good Pasties out of the choicest ingredients; partially baking them, then quick-freezing them to meet the pleasure of the biggest share of the Pastie connoisseurs in this area.

The people at Schmieder's Delicatessen want everyone to enjoy the finest homemade Pasties that money can buy — and Schmieder's emphasize that they have a sincere desire to offer the public the tastiest Pasties servable — even as your own. Pasties have a unique flavor which Schmieder's are sure everyone will come to enjoy — somewhat like learning to like Scotch or ripe olives.

No matter what is served as a beverage with Pasties: be it martinis, beer, Scotch or milk or coffee; the neophyte Pastie eater will soon discover the real home-baked flavor of Schmieder's Pasties, informs the store. Schmieder's Pasties are available in the frozen food cases of local food markets.

When shopping, don't look for a fancy four-color package, warns the store. Pasties will be found in a plain unassuming carton ("NEAT but not GAUDY," as the feller says). By the way, enthusiastically invites the maker, stop in at Schmieder's Delicatessen and look over the large assortment of home-made ready-to-eat items in their store, corner of Memorial Drive at Fifth Street. Phone number of the store is RE 3-7616.

The 1959 Lincoln reveals its classic design consistency by retaining its clean, long, low sweeping lines. Styling refinements include an enlarged sculptured steel scallop that extends into the front door, an aluminum applique at the rear quarter, and a new front grille that extends into the headlamp area. A new wraparound bumper encloses the grille. Overall length has been reduced two inches. Lincolns will have an improved all welded unitized body that provides added strength and eliminates squeaks and rattles. The new Lincoln went on display recently at Al Rudolf Motors, Inc., 300 N. Superior Street, home of Edsel, Mercury, Lincoln, Continental and English Ford cars in Appleton.

A New Series in the 1959 Ford line — the Galaxie — captures more of the taste and styling flavor of the Thunderbird than any other Ford model. Compared here, the Galaxie Town Victoria in the foreground bears a strong resemblance to the 1959 four-passenger Thunderbird — especially in the roof area, yet it is priced to sell only $48 above comparable models in the Ford Fairlane 500 series. The new luxury series includes six different body styles and will be available at Ford dealerships in early December, Sherry Motors, Appleton Ford dealer, disclosed today.

Ford Division announced this week—nearly a year ahead of schedule—a new series of automobiles that will sell for only $48 above regular Ford Fairlane 500 prices, but have a strong resemblance to the four-passenger Thunderbird—especially in the roof area. Called the Galaxie, and originally a part of Ford's 1960 styling plans, the new luxury series contains six different body styles. There are seven interior color selections. "Galaxie" script appears on the Several Models The Galaxie series comes in a two door sedan, a four-door sedan, two-door hardtop, four-door hardtop, a convertible and a retractable hardtop. Production of the vehicles started November 17 at most Ford Division assembly plants. The cars go on sale at Ford dealerships in early December, Sherry's said.

In Good Taste 'Send-Off' Proper Fete In This Case

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to Europe to be married. Her fiancé is already there on military duty. I would like to give a large reception before she leaves for our relatives and friends to take the place of the one we would have given had she been here. Would such a reception be proper, and if so, how should the invitation be worded? Also, could there be a wedding cake?

Answer: You can give her a "send off" party of any size you choose, but you should wait until she is married and her husband and she together can be present, before giving her any form of wedding reception.

Rehearsal Dinners

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please give me some information about a rehearsal dinner? Who gives it and who is included besides the wedding attendants?

Answer: There is no rule about a rehearsal dinner. In fact, comparatively few are given at all. The wedding party usually meet at the church for the rehearsal and stay an indefinite length of time. Afterwards, perhaps they all go back to the house of the bride, or another relative and have a simple buffet supper. They even more often disperse. Again, sometimes, they have a dinner for the bridal party, after which they go to the rehearsal. This dinner usually includes none but the young people, or perhaps it includes other members of both their families.

Introductions

Dear Mrs. Post: When presenting a new member of our afternoon group to as many as a dozen mothers, is it sufficient just to give her name and not give the names of all the others?

Answer: Such an introduction as this usually is made by first attracting the attention of the group by saying, "I'd like all of you to meet Mrs. Jones." Then you merely tell her names in the order each one happens in standing or sitting.

Woman in Midst of Divorce Action Limited Socially

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: My husband was no good so I filed for divorce. It won't be final for several months. I live with my mother because she offered to take care of the kids while I work, but her old-fashioned ideas are driving me crazy. She says I shouldn't go out with men until I'm legally divorced.

After work my girl friend and I sometimes go to a cocktail lounge. Now and then we meet some nice guys who take us to dinner. My mother says my husband can take the kids away if he catches me with another man.

I'm only 27 years old and not hard to look at. Am I supposed to sit around the house and rot? I want to marry again and have a home of my own. But how can I meet men if I don't go any place? My mother forgets that a divorced woman with three kids is third-rate pickin's.

Please tell my mother the score so she'll get off my back. It's you who needs to be told the score, not your mother. A woman whose divorce is pending is still married. Your husband could make plenty of trouble if he caught you in cocktail lounges trying to "meet people".

First of all, you'd better elevate your opinion of "Yours Truly".

If you consider yourself "third-rate pickin's" prepare for another marital flop. With such an attitude you're likely to grab the first guy who comes down the pike.

For a woman who wants to meet a nice fellow and marry again you're using the wrong approach. Combining bars for strange males who will buy you a dinner is no route to the altar.

My advice is to behave like a married woman until you're free. Then join groups which will bring you into contact with decent people.

DEAR ANN: What should a son-in-law call his mother-in-law? Is it proper to call a 54-year-old woman "Hey You" after five years?

I have tolerated this silently until I will flatten him with a skillet if I hear "Hey You" one more time. I am not a violent person, but this has me seeing red. Please tell me if you think I ought to take an extra tranquilizer when he comes over and keep my mouth shut. Or would it be best to speak out?

I don't want to hurt my daughter's feelings but that lunthead she married should know better by this time. Please don't use my name or I'd never hear the end of it.

No Sign — I never use a real name or I'd never hear the end of it. "Hey You" is not a fitting salutation for anyone. Simply tell the lunthead — I mean your son-in-law — that your given name is So-and-So, and if he can't say it, then Mrs. will do.

DEAR ANN: My sister borrowed three dresses and a blouse from me to take on a trip. This was her first nice vacation so I decided to be a good egg.

Yesterday she returned. She bought herself all sorts of junk; in fact she had to buy a suitcase to haul the stuff home. I almost fell over dead when she presented me with my gift. It was a bottle of perfume that could be purchased at any drug store in town for 89c.

To top it off, she handed me the clothes I lent her and they looked like rags. She didn't even have the courtesy to have them cleaned and pressed.

Do you think I should insist that she replace the things she ruined? I am boiling. — Big-Hearted Beverly.

Why boil? You were stupid. Your sister was no stranger. Surely you had a clue as to how she takes care of things. She won't replace the garments, so save your breath.

My advice is to forget it — and remember it, if you get what I mean.

Practiced Discipline High Mark of Maturity

BY ANGELO PATRI

Every young person wants to be a somebody—liked, admired, wanted, and because of their inexperience, they are likely to flounder a bit and lose the very thing they were striving to win, the approval of their group.

This applies directly to the boys and girls in the secondary schools. They have the desire to be grownup and have a share in the adult's work and play but they are not prepared for that yet and must serve an apprenticeship to life before they can have their masters certificate. This preparation is in the hands of their parents and teachers to some extent but mainly it is their own responsibility.

Each must grow his own strength of mind, body and character and it is in this process that the boys and girls are likely to take inappropriate steps.

Matter of Dress

Some of the mistaken bids for acceptance are in the choice of clothes. It is a mistake for a girl to go to school in a sweater that is too tight, in a dress that is form fitting. It is in bad taste to wear too apparent make-up and a bizarre hairdo. These overdone effects attract attention that such girls mistake for popularity. Actually they have cheapened themselves in the opinion of the people they wish most to impress.

Boys are likely to dress crudely. Some smoke, not because they enjoy it but because it is a defiance of public opinion and they think that this adds to their manliness. Some are loud-spoken, badly-mannered, careless about their work, doing just so they get by.

None of this impresses the girls, the teachers or the outsiders who look on critically. All of it costs the boys the coveted badge of maturity, of approval from any direction.

A reputation for intelligence, ability, and general worthwhileness has to be earned. This is not easy because it means self-discipline. It means consideration for other people, at home, in school and wherever people may be. It means lending a hand whenever it is needed, unexpected, and most welcome.

Y Inter-Club Unit Names Officers

The inter-club council composed of representatives of 20 Hi-Y and Tri-Y groups held its organizational meeting this week at the Y. Officers elected include Duane Call, president; Mary Loker, vice president, and Jo Ann Hintz, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Maxine Vanevenhoven, YMCA women and girls program director, and Robert Cook, Y youth director, were on the program. Possible service projects were discussed. The next meeting will be Dec. 16.

Vivacious, Tiny French Movie Star Charms Audience of Interviewers

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"I am in love with America," said beautiful, diminutive and delightful French movie star Christine Carere in Chicago Thursday.

She flashed a winsome smile as she added, "I always say that—and it's true. People in this country are so very nice, so warm."

The lovely young actress was answering a battery of questions from reporters after the special screening of her latest movie, "Mardi Gras," in which she co-stars with Pat Boone, Gary Crosby and Tommy Sands.

She cocked her blonde head prettily as she concentrated to catch the meaning of the unfamiliar English. Then she answered all queries readily and directly.

A charmer is this fresh-looking, brown-eyed actress who endeared herself to a roomful of strangers in a matter of minutes. She turned a routine interview into an informal party.

Second U.S. Movie

She made a point of shaking hands with every person at the preview; she took time out to make two tape interviews for broadcasting, sitting nonchalantly on the floor while doing it. She posed cheerfully for innumerable pictures and joshed a photographer when his flash bulb failed to go off. "Mardi Gras" is Miss Carere's second American picture. The first was "That Certain Smile," which launched her 7-year contract with 20th Century Fox. She couldn't speak a word of English when she signed up, but with the help of a tutor she learned quickly. She still has her Parisian accent, which doesn't matter in the new picture because she plays the role of a French movie star.

Miss Carere called American actors fabulous, saying that they are so relaxed while making a movie. "In France, we are so nervous, so tense, but here they come before the cameras, they act and puff it is done. It's fantastic."

She thinks Pat Boone is wonderful to work with because he is so natural—"he's himself and doesn't try to act." This, she said, was a high compliment, besides the fact that Boone has an excellent voice. Gary Crosby, she said, "is a very, very funny boy to make you laugh and he's a good boy."

French youth have taken to American music, she said, and Boone is one of their favorite singers now. The young people listen to American records, sung in English, and they like jazz and rock and roll music.

How She Started

When asked how she got in the movies, Miss Carere told how it all happened at a garden party. It was seven years ago when she was 15 and planning to be a secretary.

She happened to attend a charity party for soldiers one Sunday afternoon for want of something better to do. While there, a woman director saw her and asked her if she would like to take a test for a film centered on school girls. She passed the test and that was it.

After her first film she studied three years at La Comedie Francaise. She has made 15 movies in France and acted on the stage in one play in which she had the lead.

Knows Brigitte

The actress has known Brigitte Bardot since they both started in pictures together. Although she doesn't censure Miss Bardot for her type of acting and dress, she herself prefers not to play such roles.

As a matter of fact, Miss Carere's ambition is to become a dramatic actress.

It was during the filming of the French movie, "Spring in Paris," that Miss Carere met her actor husband, Philipp Nicaud. "Isn't that romantic?" she asked. They have been married a year and live in a large apartment in Paris—and have an excellent cook to prepare their favorite French dishes.

Nicaud acts mostly on the stage and, according to his wife, "he is an important actor in France—and very handsome." Plans are underway for 20th-Century Fox to give him a screen test and, if things work out, they both will be in Hollywood in a "little house of their own."

Going Home

Miss Carere leaves for Paris Monday, taking a jet plane to get back to her husband as quickly as possible. She arrived in the United States two weeks ago and has been traveling from city to city to promote "Mardi Gras" since that time.

Her most exciting visit was

Spend Too Much Money on Fringes, But Not Enough Downtown

Five aldermen have voted against asking the Outagamie county board for $20,000 toward reconstruction and widening of W. Prospect avenue at the city limits.

The vote came on a resolution which the board of public works said must be passed and forwarded to the county board before the grant, already negotiated, can be given.

The opponents were Ald. Captain, Ertl, Sonkowsky, Stoebauer and Tucker.

Stoebauer put his opposition this way:

"Didn't we vote on this before? Where is it? We're going to spend $60,000? It's time we spent some of our money downtown, not on the fringe."

$80,000 Cost

The project would place a concrete slab, with curb and gutter, between S. Douglas street and a point 120 feet west of S. Perkins street for an estimated $80,000.

Ald. Pointer, street chairman, told Stoebauer he agrees about the flow of money to fringe areas, but reminded him that a final hearing on the project will be held next year.

"At the hearing," said Pointer, "we'll have to give considerable thought to the fact that our industrial development site is on Perkins just north of Prospect."

City officials originally sought $33,000 grant from the county.

Annexation

Ald. Tucker proposed a delay in approving the Schaefer annexation, but found no support. "It's certainly a compliment," he said, "but in my opinion it is time to give careful and thorough consideration of territory for annexation. We're all aware of the money it takes and of the real and present resistance to our method of getting the money."

Some argue annexations add to the property tax base, said Tucker, but "when we take over outlying property we have to provide services and right now we seem to be having trouble furnishing services inside the city. It's not advisable to take on more when our ability to pay is not as great as a year ago."

Need It For Sewer

Ald. Schneider said the 123.68-acre Schaefer plat lies between the sewage treatment plant and the proposed new high school site at John and Calumet streets, adjacent to the east city limits.

"Before we can use that site we have to cross the Schaefer land with a trunk sewer. If it's not in the city, we'll need an easement and, if annexation is turned down, the owners understandably won't be disposed to giving us one," said Schneider.

The tract is one of the few proposed for annexation since World War II in which owners offered to donate five acres for a park. Schneider pointed out. The park will be donated under terms of a will.

The annexation was sent to City Atty. Jury for drafting of an ordinance.

Deny Annexation

The Percy C. Menning annexation was returned to Menning without approval, but with the suggestion that a row of lots 120 feet deep be added east of Meade street and north of Second avenue.

Board of public works members suggested the reservation because extension of services along the streets otherwise would require the city to pay half of construction costs.

The annexation involves 35.2 acres at the northwest corner of Meade street and Highway 41. Owners are Menning, Earl Lecker and Leslie Behm.

Refuse Park Land

The A. B. Kassilke offer of 10 acres for a park at $2,000 an acre was turned down because the land would be bisected by a probable future street.

Kassilke's land lies in the town of Harrison, Calumet county, east of Carpenter street extended and west of about Greenview street extended.

Swim Pool Site

The council unanimously voted to rescind $929.88 in special assessments against Consolidated Water Power and Paper company for sidewalk and curb and gutter along Interlake park.

The company is preparing a deed for transfer of park ownership to the city. The city intends to build an outdoor swimming pool on the land.

Contingent Fund

A total of $10,535.21 was ordered transferred from the contingent fund to meet overdrafts of $5,500 in the relief budget, $4,500 in the official printing account and $535.21 for an unforeseen project at the house on the industrial park site.

Another $6,193 was ordered transferred from the traffic control and electrical inspection budgets to the relief department account.

Plats

The final Roselawn plat, owned by Jerome, George,

Betty and Mrs. Asella Gresl, was approved. It shows 19 lots about a half mile north of Highway 41 between Story and Summit streets extended.

Approval of the final South Meadows plat (the former Estabrook Farm) was withheld until S. West avenue is vacated. The plat shows parts of S. West avenue in lots and a re-routing of the street.

A preliminary plan of the Nicholas plat, owned by Nick Griesbach and showing a re-plat of the alley provisions, was approved with one stipulation.

Calling for opening of the new east-west alley 126 feet north of Wisconsin avenue and west of Gillett street after 10 years. This will require removal of a house on Gillett street.

If Griesbach agrees, the city will not oppose his petition to circuit court for vacation of the north-south alley shown in the original plat, but unopened.

The planning commission is withholding action on Eldon Schultz's plat of his trailer court until the town of Harrison acts.

Block Street

St. Mary Catholic school was given permission to barricade Seventh street between Memorial drive and State street from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. for recreational purposes. The city will furnish barricades, but the school must maintain them.

'59 Projects

Sanitary sewer, water main and grading and graveling were ordered for 1959 construction in the Madison plat, owned by Ray McClone and Dr. William Madison.

The improvements will be placed along Gladys avenue from Harding drive to Taft avenue, Colony court from Gladys avenue to Meadowview lane and on Meadowview lane from Colony court to Taft avenue.

Traffic Studies

Mrs. Stillings' resolution, calling for a parking ban on the west side of Appleton street from Washington street to College avenue, was denied. She asked for the action during peak traffic hours while H. C. Prange company construction is underway, but Traffic Sgt. John Gosch said the problem was removed when large cables were no longer used in the work.

Gosch was ordered to study traffic problems of all Gillett street intersections from Winnebago street to Wisconsin avenue and near the high school.

The public safety committee is withholding decisions on three requests for solutions to traffic problems.

They call for a study of how to add more parking on Appleton street north of College avenue, how to provide safe crossing of Oneida street at the library and whether to place "Slow Down" signs at Lawrence and Oneida streets.

Parking Problems

The public safety committee is considering a chamber of commerce suggestion to place parking meters on Lawrence street between Memorial drive and Superior street except at St. Joseph Catholic church and school.

It also has a chamber suggestion that it may be wise

Widow Sits Alone at Tyrone Power's Funeral

BY JAMES BACON

Hollywood — (AP) — A young widow, only six months ago the happy bride of one of the movies' most handsome heroes, sat by herself in front of the coffin of her husband, Tyrone Power.

There were 125 other mourners in the tiny Chapel of the Psalms Friday. Among them were Gregory Peck, James Stewart, Loretta Young, Yul Brynner and Henry Fonda.

But Deborah Ann Power had her back toward them. It was her last hour with the husband she loved. Semimilitary rites, conducted by a Presbyterian minister, ended in 34 minutes.

to change parking charges on College avenue to five cents for a half hour or 10 cents an hour. A chamber survey, the committee was told, shows 67 per cent of the parkers are not shoppers.

The other mourners marched out. But for nearly 20 minutes, the 26-year-old widow was alone with her husband.

Still Composed

She still was composed as she walked from the limousine to her husband's grave. There, the chaplain delivered the brief committal service for the actor whose heart attack death a week ago in Madrid stunned movie fans everywhere.

A crowd of 2,000, fans and curious, swarmed over other graves from the chapel to the burial site.

Cesar Romero, an old-time friend, eulogized Power, the babble of the crowd disturbed the mourners inside. Once Romero raised his voice in order that his words could be heard above the shouts, laughter and other noises outside.

The crowd quieted, howev-

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The Faith of Our Founding fathers enabled them to endure cold, starvation and disease in a strange and hostile land. Of the 100 colonists who stepped ashore at Plymouth, 50 died during that first cruel winter. Yet, when the Mayflower returned to England, no one elected to go back.

Even in the midst of poverty and privation, they found cause for rejoicing; their harvest had been bountiful and the Indians remained friendly. In thanksgiving for this, they shared their bounty with the Indians in three days of feasting and sport.

The Thanksgiving celebration, carried to other colonies, was officially proclaimed by George Washington in 1789: "Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will . . . and whereas both houses of Congress have requested me to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public Thanksgiving and prayer . . . now therefore do I recommend that Thursday be devoted to the service of that great and glorious Being, who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be."

all through the house . . . there's a need for ADEQUATE WIRING!

Modern living calls for plenty of electricity. We'll deliver any amount you need. But, YOU have to provide a large enough service entrance -- enough circuits -- enough outlets and switches in your home. This way electricity can really go to work for you -- the moment you want it!

Homes inadequately wired suffer from overloaded circuits. Lights dim when appliances are turned on -- TV pictures flicker -- fuses blow -- iron and coffeemakers heat up slowly, etc.

Wiring modernization is the answer to these problems. And it costs less than you think. If you want to spread out your payments you can use our Wire On Time plan. There's no down payment and you can take up to 3 years to pay on your electric service bills. The electrical contractor of your choice will do the work and arrange for easy payments on our Wire On Time plan.

Why not have your wiring checked soon?

Demonstrator Lists Hints For Successful Cookie Baking at Holiday Fair

Oshkosh — Tips for successful cookie baking were listed for Winnebago county homemakers at the Christmas fair by Mrs. Eileen Schrieber, Wisconsin Public Service corporation, who gave demonstrations throughout the day.

In basic preparation steps, Mrs. Schrieber emphasized reading the recipe carefully, then assemble all ingredients and utensils. Grease the baking sheets, if indicated on the recipe. Keep the grease away from the edges of the sheet, where no cookies are placed. This prevents burning and makes the sheet easier to clean.

Shiny metal pans absorb heat less rapidly than dull metal, thus cookies will be more delicately brown on the bottom. Baking sheets should be smaller than the oven, so there are a few inches of leeway between the oven walls and sheets. If baking pans are used in place of sheets, invert the pans, baking the cookies on the bottom.

When storing cookies, crisp varieties need a dry atmosphere. A loosely covered container will keep them crunchy. If cookies do become soft, place in a moderate oven for a few minutes. Soft varieties of the goodies should be tightly covered. If the cookies begin to dry, add a slice of apple, orange or fresh bread or tape a piece of moistened cotton or sponge to the inside of the cover to add needed moisture.

Her suggestions for speeding Christmas cookie baking and using fewer pans included cutting two pieces of aluminum foil to fit the baking sheet. Space cut-out cookies or drop the batter onto the foil-covered pan. While the first batch bakes, place more cookies on the "spare" foil. For a quick and easy switch, slide the baked cookies, foil and all to a cake rack; whisk the second batch to the baking sheet.

When making refrigerator cookies, mold the dough into rolls as big as you wish the cookies to be. Wrap in waxed paper. The dough may also be pressed into special molds or butter cartons. Chill until firm. Cut the dough in thin slices with a very sharp knife, cutting straight down through the dough.

To freeze refrigerator cookie dough, seal rolls of dough in freezer paper. Slice frozen rolls with a sharp knife and bake without thawing.

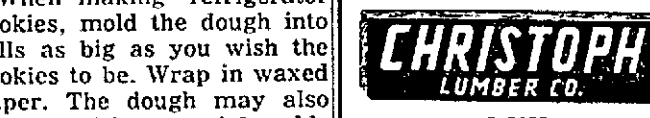

Tips for rolled cookies include the use of a pastry cloth and stockinet — covered rolling pin to make rolling easier and to keep the dough from sticking and picking up flour. Excess flour rolled into dough makes the baked product tough and dry.

Shape dough with the palms of your hands and fingers into balls, cylinders and other shapes for molded cookies. Cylinders can be shaped into crescents by tapering the ends and curving to form half circles. Flatten on baking sheets by pressing with a floured glass bottom or criss-crossing with a fork.

Pack drop cookie dough into tub-type freezer containers and before using, thaw until the dough is soft enough to drop. Another way is dropping the dough by spoonfuls onto a baking sheet and then placing in the freezer. Pack the frozen pieces in freezer cartons with double sheets of waxed paper between the layers.

New York Man Entertains 50,000 Students Per Year

New York — Marie McDonald entertains 50,000 college students a year.

She probably knows more about the current fads, dating customs and general behavior of the nation's campus crowd than any college dean.

If total registration is the yardstick, she runs the world's biggest college, right in the heart of New York City, a stone's throw or a tunnel walk from Grand Central station.

Of course there are no classes at Mrs. McDonald's college, no faculty and no final exams. Her job is director of the department of college relations at the Hotel Biltmore. The campus she supervises is limited to the hotel and the department she runs is responsible for comfort and welfare of the collegiate hordes who descend on the famous old hotel on weekends, holidays and vacations. In her four years as college director, Mrs. McDonald has become a sort of mother confessor for the nation's students, although she is young, pert and attractive. She has representatives on campuses throughout the country. She herself travels widely, visiting colleges and prep schools. She is responsible for reserving the required number of rooms for the college crowd, estimating their needs months in advance.

But she's also a one-woman clearing house for the transfer of funds from parents to students, for delivering messages, giving shopping advice or travel directions, getting theater tickets and finding lost articles. Says she: "Every once in a while I'm also the bureau of missing persons. A daughter will write her parents that she will be staying at the Biltmore, and then will fail to arrive. The parents sometimes get frantic, so we phone the girls' friends and usually find the missing daughter back on campus or staying with one of her friends."

Packer-49er Tilt Seen as Factor in Coaches' Futures

Sunday's Schedule
Chicago Bears at Detroit.
Los Angeles at Baltimore.
Philadelphia at Cleveland.
Pittsburgh at Chicago Cardinals.
San Francisco vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee.
Washington at New York.

Milwaukee — The San Francisco 49ers and the Green Bay Packers will carry similar records and problems on to the field Sunday when they clash in a National Football League game.

The outcome, not important to league standings, could be a factor in the futures of coaches Frankie Albert of the 49ers and the Packers' Ray McLean. Both are nearing the end of 1-year contracts.

McLean, in his first season as head man, seems to be on firmer ground than Albert, finishing his third year as head coach.

Albert's team was a force in the 1957 NFL race, reaching a Western conference play-off with the Detroit Lions before it was turned aside in its quest for a title. This season his team is only 3-5, a place ahead of the Packers, lost in the Western division with a 1-6-1 record.

The biggest problem for both teams has been offensive power, and their records reflect the shortage. The 49ers have scored 126 points, the Packers 126. The 49ers have allowed 244 points, the Packers 243.

San Francisco has trouble in the offensive line. And, the 49er quarterbacking has been erratic despite the presence of veteran Y. A. Tittle and talented understudy John Brodie.

Moele injured.

The quarterbacking has been Green Bay's biggest problem with neither Bart Starr nor "Babe" Parilli able to follow one good performance with another. The Packer offensive line was bolstered this year, but still is far below the standards desired, by the coaching staff or required by league competition.

Injuries also have been a factor for both clubs.

The 49ers lost big center Frank Morze and probably will play the Packers without defensive standout Dick Moele who may be through for the season because of a knee injury.

Six Packers are out for the year with injuries, including starters fullback Howie Ferguson, tackle Jerry Hellum, linebacker Carlton Massey, end Gary Knefel and guard Hank Bullough who will undergo surgery for a bad right knee next Tuesday.

Tittle will start for the 49ers, while the Packers will open with Parilli "because he's done the best job of moving the team," according to McLean.

Also slated to see some action is former 49er linebacker Merv Matuszak, acquired by the Packers this week. McLean said Matuszak, waived out by San Francisco, must earn a place with Green Bay, but the coach added "he probably will see a little action."

A crowd of about 16,000 is expected in Milwaukee County Stadium for the game which starts at 1:06.

Record Crowd Expected In Baltimore

BY JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's the Colts by seven, and Shaw or Unitas pick 'em.

The pre-game show Sunday will belong to Baltimore Coach "Weeb" Ewbank when he chooses between the two star quarterbacks. Then it will be up to the Colts, led by either George Shaw or Johnny Unitas, to make good on the 7-point favoritism over the Los Angeles Rams.

Tied for Second

The Colts (7-1) are leading the National Football league's Western conference by two games, and Los Angeles (5-3) is tied for second with the Chicago Bears. A record Baltimore professional football crowd — 57,557 — will turn out to see if the Colts, who have whipped the Bears twice, can turn back the challenge of the Rams who have won three straight.

Sunday's game is the big one because a Colt victory will put the Rams three games back with three to play.

The Bears are at the Detroit Lions Sunday in the other important Western conference game, while the Cleveland Browns, Eastern Conference front-runners, are home to Philadelphia. The Bears are 3-point underdogs to the much-improved Lions (3-4-1), while the Browns (6-2) are 12-point favorites to whip the Eagles (2-5-1) and at least maintain their one game lead over the New York Giants.

The Giants (5-3) are given the nod by three points over the Washington Redskins (3-5) at New York, and the Giants must keep pace with Cleveland until they get another crack at the Browns Dec. 14 in the season windup.

In other games, San Francisco (3-5) and Green Bay (1-6-1) play a lower rung Western conference contest at Milwaukee, and Pittsburgh (4-4) hopes to move up on the played in both the National and American leagues have hit more.

Survivors include his daughters, Mrs. Philip Lorio and Mrs. Barbara Ott, his mother, Mrs. Charles Ott Sr., Gretina; a brother, Charles Ott of Harrisburg; a sister, Mrs. Louis Rhodes of Gretina, and one grandson.

3-1 Loop Holds Session Sunday

Foxes to Have 3 or 4 Delegates In Chicago

Three, and possibly four, Fox Cities club officials will attend the annual meeting of the Three-I Baseball league Sunday at Chicago's Lake Shore club.

Club President Ray McCone, Secretary S. M. Timmers, and Business Manager Bob Willis are certain to attend the session. And Bo DiRenzo, club director, may be on hand.

The purpose of the meeting is to organize the Class B circuit for the 1959 season. Six teams — Fox Cities, Green Bay, Cedar Rapids, Davenport, Burlington and Rochester-Winona — had franchises during the '58 campaign.

League President Hal Totter hopes to boost the complement to at least eight teams. It is considered likely that Winona will not be back in '59, leaving at least three franchises to be placed.

Such Western league clubs as Des Moines, Topeka, Sioux City and Lincoln have been mentioned as "interested," as have Wisconsin Rapids and Eau Claire.

The latest names to come up in pre-meeting speculation are Iowa's Clinton and Dubuque—who were represented in the Class D Midwest league in '58 — and Peoria, Ill., which once was a 3-1 franchise.

Kimberly faithful, on the other hand, seem destined to watch their hardwood commandos make it hot for a flock of teams in a flock of games during the ensuing 31 months.

Dominant in every phase of play, the Papermakers won as they pleased here in the season opener that was a contest for the first 51 minutes.

straight points. That early surge, which saw the Papermakers sink nine of their first 15 shots, carried the heavily-favored visitors completely out of reach of the most inexperienced quintet AHS has opened with in many years.

The 30-point loss is the worst of Coach Dick Emanuel's 6-season AHS career. The win was Kimberly's first in five tries at Appleton against an Emanuel team and severs the Papermakers' overall losing streak against the Terrapins at four straight. It also enabled Kimberly's Gil Frank to reduce his deficit to 5-3 in his coaching rivalry with Emanuel.

THE "ROOM LIGHT" IN YOUR $8.50 PER DAY HOTEL ROOM IS ABOUT AS BIG AS A CHRISTMAS-TREE BULB....

THANKS AND A TIP OF THE HAT TO THE HATLO HAT TO LEW WARD, 306 FOURTH AVE., PITTSBURGH, 22, PENNA.

Time Out with Mike Drew

Just about the best all-the great Neenah High quintet round athlete in this year's of last season, seriously injured freshman class, jured a knee in this fall's Neenah's Dave Thomsen, will Lawrence - Ripon freshman probably miss the entire 1958-9 basketball season.

Dave, the No. 2 scorer on There is some question as to whether Thomsen, a hard-running back, will ever play football again.

At the recent Appleton football banquet, Terror Head Coach Ade Dillon thanked Lawrence grid co-captain Carl Schwendler for his "tremendous" help coaching AHS lines early in each of the past several seasons.

"Carl will make somebody a fine coach," said Ade. Schwendler plans to go into coaching and teaching after he graduates next June.

Dillon also revealed, with tongue partly visible in cheek, that he's thinking of barring the nickname "Squirrely" for junior quarterback John Nussbaum—next season.

The coach feels that the name denotes qualities which it is not entirely desirable for a signal-caller to possess.

Two Fox Cities area prep basketball coaches, one an oldtimer and the other a comparative newcomer, bring impressive records into the current season.

The veteran, Wittenberg's Andy Nelson, is starting his thirtieth campaign as a varsity basketball coach. Probably very few other state cage mentors — Neenah's Ole Jorgensen is one — have been around longer.

Nelson, in his seventeenth season at Wittenberg, previously coached at Rosholt. He and his wife run a small resort at Three Lakes — in the Rosholt-Wega area — in the summertime. Andy plans to retire from coaching after the 1959-60 season.

The other fellow, Hortonville High's Russ Tiedemann, is starting his fourth year in the Polar Bear helm.

His Polar Bear clubs have won 60 of 69 starts! After a 16-6 record in Russ' first year, they improved to 22-2 in 1956-7 and 22-1 last season.

An optometrist and a dentist are the owners of the two best series thus far in the Appleton bowling season. Optometrist Dr. Larry Keller has the top set, a 684, while dentist Dr. Charles Hauch has bowled a 681.

Both scores were achieved in the same league — the Knights of Columbus American circuit at the Elks club.

Three Fox Cities area sports figures are taking on additional responsibilities this fall.

The Fox Cities Foxes' shortstop of last summer, Don Danton, was married recently in New York City. Freedom's Ron Neuhouse, the nation's leading small college football passer much of this fall, was married earlier this week to Patricia Smith of Rt. 2, Kaukauna.

Foxes' pitcher Earl Furlow will marry an Appleton girl, Nancy DeNoble, in a few days.

Two of the four members of the Lawrence college coaching staff, Head Football Coach Bernie Heseltin and Head Swimming Mentor Gene Davis, have moved into different homes within the past several months.

Calhoun Loses To 'Tiger' On Low Blow

New York — Because Referee Ray Miller ruled Rory Calhoun hit Ralph "Tiger" Lopez low in the eighth round, the Tiger is on the upgrade and Calhoun is a beaten favorite.

The gruelling 10-round mid-dleweight brawl Friday night at Madison Square garden was so close that it hunged on Miller's action in penalizing Calhoun the eighth round.

As Calhoun appeared to have won the eighth by a comfortable margin, that penalty cost him the scrap. Both Miller and Judge Bill Foster capped.

Calhoun, 24, had weight and scored 5-4-1 and Judge Bill Miller 5-3-2, all for Jones. A youth on his side, he scaled switch in the eighth would 163 to Jones' 158 1/2 pounds. have made it 5-4-1 the other Rory went in an 8-5 favorite.

Snead, Hogan Trail Irish Duo By 2 Strokes

Harry Bradshaw Holds Tourney's Individual Lead

Mexico City — Ireland and England are fighting again today. But this time it's on a golf course.

Scene: The lush, 7,216 yard par 72 Club de Mexico golf course where 62 players from 32 countries entered third round play of the International Golf championships, and Canada was hostess.

Ireland is in first place England is only four strokes behind as a team. The Irish-English match, last to tee off at noon, is the day's feature.

Lead by Two
Storky, cheerful 44-year-old Harry Bradshaw of Dublin, playing the steadiest and best golf of the tournament, Friday took over the individual lead and shot his team into the No. 1 spot.

Bradshaw and teammate Christy O'Connor, both longtime Ryder cup players, lead the United States team of Ben Hogan and Sam Snead by two strokes—236 to 238.

Bradshaw shot his second straight 2 under-par 70 Friday while Snead turned in a 71 and Hogan, having putting trouble, was one over par with 73. This gave Bradshaw 140, Snead 143, Hogan 145. Belgium's Flory van Donck had 142. Colombia's Miguel Sala, who led the opening round, was tied for third with Snead.

Leading teams behind Ireland and the U. S. were Australia (292 points), England (293), South Africa (294), Scotland (294), Argentina (295), Spain (296), China (307), Colombia (308), Japan, the Philippines and Wales (309 each).

Art Jepson Slaps 590 Kegling Set

Art Jepson's 590 was the honor aggregate in the latest round of Craftsman's wheel kegling at the Elks club. He shot a 247 along the route for the Redskins. The Cards (41-4) lead the league by two games.

Arlo Burt's 585 paced the Tap-a-Keg wheel at the Barn Tavern. The Barn Tavern (21-12) holds a 3 game lead.

Art Zienstki slammed a 581 in the Valley Iron Works circuit at the Barn, kegling for the Red Burners. The Shorts (22-7) top the loop by 73 games.

Hene Dellgen's 526 was the honor aggregate in Balm's Women's circuit. One of her Stop and Shop games was a 210. Christensen Oil (32-4) owns a 3 game loop lead.

In the Craftsman's wheel "Time" Clarke boomed a 555. Paul Fuhelkorn shot a 555 and Joe Tonnessen a 560 in the Tap-a-Keg wheel. In the Women's loop Marion Ashman rattled a 200 and Mary Ann Luppert a 196.

Prometheus and Atlas Score 'Y' Cage Victories

Prometheus and Atlas will each have their second wins of the Appleton YMCA Senior Boys Basketball league Wednesday evening.

Prometheus, 30-28 winner over Home Mutuals in its opener, will play Mars Hi-Y. Tom Van Wyk's 14 points paced the Prometheus win. Atlas, which beat Mars, 42-38, will play Home Mutual next. Bill Richards led the Atlas victory with 17 points.

In the opening round of the "Y" Girls league, the Dots defeated the Rockets, 35-31, and the Capitalists beat the Falcons, 24-14.

Dorothy Schmidt, of the losing Rockets, was the leading first-week scorer with 18 points. Barbara Crabb had 13 for the Dots; and Lynn Kellogg and Jo McGuire 10 each for the Capitalist team.

Madison — St. John Holy Name plays Green Bay tonight in the feature game on the Badger Amateur Basketball 11 association's Southern division schedule.

The game will be played at the East De Pere High school gym. Both clubs registered impressive wins in their openers. St. John over Hortonville, 112-70, and the Bays over Winneconne, 79-51.

Papermakers Wallop AHS Quint, 74-44

thefts into baskets, that fast-breaks tellingly and rebounds effectively.

For that's exactly the kind of show to which the Papermakers treated some 1,800 fans in the AHS cage emporium.

Kimberly connected on 31 of 60 shots from the field, with Darrell Jansen, Minton and Jeff Vander Velden setting the prime examples for accuracy. Jansen, exceedingly artful around the immediate basket area, made seven of 12 and logged the game's high point total of 17.

Minton Sinks Six
Minton, destructively efficient from the outside, dropped in six of nine field attempts. And, Vander Velden, a surprising sophomore reserve, made good on five of nine.

Minton finished with 15 points, one better than the total made by Jack Lamers, the Papermakers' "greybeard" (the only starting senior) and all-round hot-shot.

The 1-letterman (John Nussbaum) Terrors were hurt both by their own mistakes and the artistry of their opponents. Pointwise and reboundwise, they had no one to fill the big shoes of big Ron Abel, unexpectedly lost through injury.

Having had only two days of practice after the Abel mishap, AHS had little time to develop a new and more balanced attack that might help compensate for the loss of the potentially big individual total from the stalwart 6-foot-5 center.

Besides their ball-handling woes, the Terrors had a poor collective eye for the hoop. In the first three periods, AHS sank only 10 goals in 43 shots. With the help of an 8-for-17 last quarter, the Terrors finished with 30 per cent.

The same story held true on the foul line. AHS shot only .381 (on 8-for-21).

Get 11 Apiece
Larold Lodholz and Nussbaum, with 11 points each, paced Terror scoring. Bob "Birdie" Roemer, was the best AHS marksman, with a 4-for-6 record. Roemer, after a "nervous" beginning, settled down to play some good, aggressive ball.

Nussbaum had a lot of shooting troubles, but he played all but the final 11 minutes (the longest tenure on the floor) and kept a cool head and steady hand despite the increasingly heavy deficit the scoreboard was recording.

AHS led three times (1-0, 6-4, 6-5) in the early going. Nussbaum's free throw with 5:14 of the first period game pulled the hosts even for the last time (7-7). Five different Papermakers chipped in with tallies during the next 5:45 as the count skyrocketed to 27-7. From the middle of the first quarter to the middle of the second, AHS went a total of 7 minutes, 46 seconds without a field goal.

Kimberly expanded its lead over the outclassed Terrors to 33-13 at halftime.

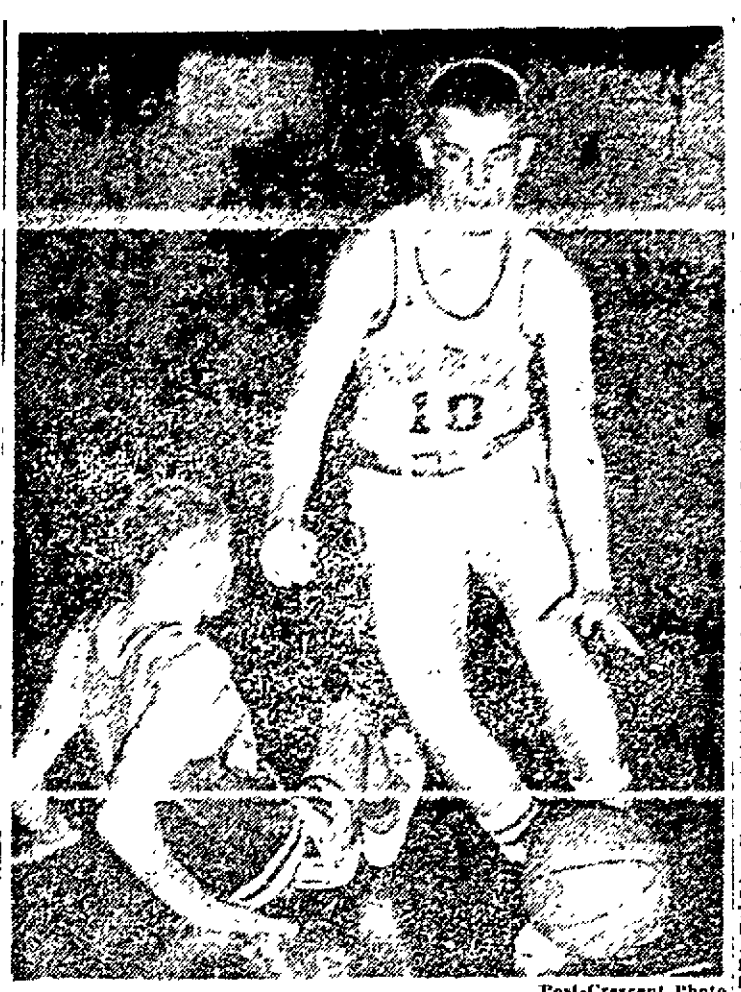

The Papermakers' widest bulge was 33 points (at 48-15, 50-17 and 53-20). With the score 50-18 midway in the third quarter, the entire Kimberly reserve unit (which had played small portions of the first half) came on for nearly 7 minutes. During that time, Kimberly regulars returned the Terrors reduced their deficit by six points (to 62-36).

Kimberly regulars returned for a parting 3-minute fling.

10 Games Introduce Curling in Green Bay

Green Bay — Another chapter was written in the sports history of Green Bay Friday afternoon and evening when 10 games of curling were played on artificial ice at the new Brown County Veterans Memorial arena.

Curling has long been a fond hope of Green Bay sports fans, but it could not become a reality until artificial ice could be installed for regular playing in an enclosed building.

5 Sheets of Ice
Construction of the $2 million arena helped solve the major stumbling block. Five sheets of ice, with regulation width and length can now be made within six hours.

Friday's program was prepared by the Midwest Curling association. A committee composed of John Hansen, Waupaca, John Bloomer, Appleton, and Harold Heuer, Clintonville, helped set up the arena program.

The five games in the afternoon included rinks from Waupaca, Appleton, Green Bay, Chicago, Wausau, Medford and Clintonville.

The evening competition, which drew an estimated 1,000 persons, had a Milwaukee rink, the 1958 Wisconsin champions skipped by Henry Fuldner play Indian Hill club of Chicago; two high school rinks from Wausau and a combined team from Appleton and Waupaca; two all women's teams from Chicago and Appleton; a Portage rink, the 1957 Wisconsin champions skipped by Bruce Rogers; and Wauwatosa; and Milwaukee and Green Bay.

The afternoon Green Bay representative in mixed competition included Lowell Larson as skip, Mrs. Larson and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maier. They played the Appleton entry, including Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fallon and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Eisele, to an 8-8 tie in 10 ends.

The demonstration inaugurated curling in this area for the newly organized Green Bay Curling club.

Membership has now passed the 55 mark and the club has a goal of about 80.

Others attending Friday were Paul Moreland, representing the U.S. Mens National Curling championship and Laurie Carlson, president of the American Curling foundation.

Bear Creek Tops Bowler High, 48-44

Bear Creek — Bear Creek High school won a basketball game here Friday night but may have lost its center for an indefinite period due to injury.

Bill Hoffman, 6-1 senior pivot man, suffered a severe back injury on the last play of the game and was taken to a hospital in New London in an ambulance as the Bruins were beating Bowler, 48-44.

The non-conference tussle was a tight affair. With the score standing 41-41 and 1:30 left Hoffman flipped in three free throws and Gary Affeldt hit a fielder to move the Bruins ahead to stay.

Affeldt wound up with 19 points for game honors.

UW Regents Authorized to Borrow $2,000,000 for Gym

Madison — The long-sought new University of Wisconsin gymnasium may soon be a reality.

The state building commission Friday authorized the university regents to borrow $2,000,000 and to pledge athletic department profits for repayment in order to finance the first unit of a new all-school physical education center on the west end of the campus, near the shore of Lake Mendota.

Ultimately a second unit, and possibly others, will be built, according to representations made to the commission.

The gymnasium, to replace the ancient and famed "little red gym" on Langdon street has been agitated for generations of university student life.

University officers described the university athletic department's financial condition as healthy. The department has been turning in profits at the rate of $500,000 to $680,000 a year lately.

The recent additions to Camp Randall, the university stadium, were financed on cash basis, and a debt of only $180,000 remains to be paid on the indoor practice field built a few years ago for university athletic teams.

Stockbridge Wins, 47-36, Over Panthers

Reedsville — Stockbridge High school evened its record at 1-1 here Friday night, by defeating Reedsville, 47-36, in a non-conference game.

The teams played even during the first three periods but then the visitors hit for a quick succession of floor shots to put the game away.

'Good Old Days' Are Gone Forever

Late 1800s Saw Quail Sold for 25 Cents; Unlimited Numbers of Pigeons, Muskrats, Deer, Fish

The conservation budget of some millions looms large but shrinks when applied to the management job of forests, streams and lakes, wetlands and uplands, game and fish that needs to be done.

The "good old days" of a century ago when there were few people and but minor changes in land cover cannot return. Modern developments are adverse to wildlife, and they are continuing, but there are major possibilities to hold and build back outdoor assets. Such work is advancing as far as possible within budget limitations.

Early settlers found a great variety of land features in Wisconsin, each adapted to specialized forms of wildlife. Agricultural development added yet another land feature that boomed some wildlife species to unprecedented heights, adding feeding areas without unduly disturbing the necessary wildlife cover. It was a "golden age" that was to decline as continued development brought on a land imbalance that continues to make it more difficult for many a species to find the necessary ingredients for life.

Roll Back Years
It is interesting to page back to the years 1850 to 1880 to see where we were and how the land was functioning. These reports are indicative:

Ozaukee county — A dollar a dozen was being paid for quail and 25 cents each for prairie chicken. Beloit — Shipped to the east from this place during the season 12 tons of quail. Madison — Prairie chickens are selling at 12 to 15 cents per bird. Milwaukee — There is an abundance of wild fruit on our market, blackberries, plums, etc. Of the former we should judge that 200 bushels had been sold on our streets. Jackson county — Six sportsmen killed 300 prairie chickens in one day near Black River Falls. Sparta — E. G. Slayton and his brother during the past fall killed 86 deer. Stoughton — Wild rice is growing so thickly above the dam as to threaten to fill the mill pond.

Pigeon Kill
Portage — Millions of pigeons are flying back and forth mornings and evenings, over the city and sportsmen have had rare fun. Omro — W. J. Guest shipped to Milwaukee 1,600 muskrats, 10 deer, several fox, mink and coon skins. Shopiere — More than 90 barrels of pigeons were shipped from here this spring. Janesville — C. W. Starks went to his old home at Tiffany for a few days and with a net caught 500 dozens of pigeons during his sojourn.

Lake Koshkonong — The lake is swarming with ducks. Berlin — A man killed 95 pigeons with one shot. Watertown — Eleven tons of wild pigeons came down from Minnesota over the St. Paul railroad. Baraboo — Thirty-five barrels of pigeons were forwarded to Milwaukee, Chicago and New York. Plainfield — Net setters were able to take as high as 500 dozens of pigeons a day for which they received in Milwaukee from 50 cents to a dollar a dozen. By May of the year, 612 barrels of wild pigeons had been shipped from five stations on the St. Paul railroad.

Farm Land
Lake Koshkonong — Watson and Orion Sutherland in three days shipped 225 dozens from the lake. Black River Falls — Shipped 70 bushels of blueberries per day during the season. Butte des Morts — The spring muskrat catch amounted to 12,200. Hartford — Barton Headley brought to town 40 partridges. He reported game as scarce but thought he could manage to get a hundred birds a week.

That's where we were but there have been revolutionary changes since. Wisconsin covers an area of 56,000 square miles of which 1,300 square miles are inland water. The land is largely foreign to what wildlife and people saw in the days of first settlement.

Of the 54,700 square miles of land, 2,297 square miles are not taken up with cities, villages and highways. Public Hunting
A total of 64 per cent of the Wisconsin land area is in farms, geared toward a maximum of domestic production with a resulting minimum of wildlife facilities. The fence row cover of the old farms is largely gone and there is no shelter under a bare wire. The living, multi-flora fence is promoted by the conservation department to offset some of this deficiency in southern Wisconsin.

Farms now occupy the better land, more productive for wildlife as well as domestic products. Only cheaper lands are available for intensive wildlife management. There are about 5,000,000 acres of public ly owned and controlled forest land in Wisconsin where efforts are made for wildlife adaptation.

Wisconsin has under its control some 450,000 acres of land in public hunting grounds and game areas of which it owns 130,000 acres and the rest is held under lease. Here intensive game management is possible as money becomes available for this purpose. The specialized game lands represent one and one-fourth per cent of the state's land area, although there are accidental wildlife values elsewhere. There is a lot of room for more intensive wildlife management where finances permit.

Where specialized wildlife developments have been possible the ventures have been highly successful. As many as 1,500 carloads of people have been attracted to Horicon Marsh on a single day, gunless people just looking or taking pictures. The marsh became available for wildlife because it failed for agriculture. Grantsburg is assured of many more visitors as the Cretaceous Meadows development progresses.

The land feature that is now disappearing most rapidly is the wetland and as it goes it carries down with it the wildlife that depends on it. Wetlands acquisition is now stressed but just to hold what we have left is an expensive venture.

Snow Betters Hunting View

Report Deer Kill Total at 58,000, Will Exceed '57

Madison — Reports of show falling in Wisconsin deer country today brightened prospects for weekend hunting, the State Conservation department reported.

Fieldmen in the northwest and west central sections said snow, though light to start with, was falling in those areas. Deer country has been lacking in snow since Nov. 15, when the season opened. If it falls enough, it will be helpful in tracking and retrieving wounded animals and make good conditions in the week-end ahead.

Season Ends
The season ends Sunday in all but 12 northern counties. These are located north of Highway 8, and the season will continue there for another week. This was set up because of a high deer population in that region.

The department said unofficial and incomplete reports from stations where deer kills have to be registered indicate that the kill is near the 58,000 mark. The total kill is expected to exceed the 68,000 figure for 1957.

A total of 13,327 deer had been killed up to Thursday in the northwest region, the department said. The west central had a total of 18,587. The east-central zone listed 8,140 registrations. These were animals killed both by individuals and under party permits.

Police Investigating Case of Missing Ducks

Clarkston, Mich. — The case of the missing mallard ducks is under investigation by the Oakland county sheriff's office.

Detroit Police Det. L. Glenn Collier, owner of a private hunting farm near here, says more than 200 mallards valued at $1,000 have been stolen from the farm. He said the ducks wore metal identification bands and were trained to stay on the farm.

Several Appletonians in the same party were successful in the Pembine area. The biggest buck (214 pounds) was shot by Ralph Raiche. Others who bagged their deer were Ray Wichman, Norbert Poupore, Len DeWall, LeRoy

State to Buy First Trout Stream

Will Pay $44,000 For 534 Acres Near Kewaunee Creek

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — One of the first trout stream acquisition projects of the state fisheries division under an expanded program will be in Kewaunee county, the conservation commission has indicated.

The commission directed the fisheries division to proceed with acquisition on plans for Little Scarboro creek, in Kewaunee county, described as one of the better native brook trout streams in that northeastern Wisconsin area. Cost $44,000.

Dr. E. W. Schneberger, head of the fisheries division, explained that his division wants to acquire ultimately about 534 acres on the creek, at an estimated cost of about $44,000.

The land acquisition project may require some years to complete. The commission's action signified only general approval of the enterprise. Individual land purchases will be subject to separate approval actions as private owners are persuaded to sell.

"Purchase will assure protection of the stream and spring waters and permit use of the stream and adjoining areas as a public fishing and hunting grounds," fisheries officials told the commission. Town and county board approvals have been obtained.

Under the enlarged fisheries acquisition program, the department is using a special budget made up in federal funds in the amount of 75 per cent.

Large Population Of Fish May Not Mean Success

A lake where fishing is poor may nonetheless have an enormous population of fish. Exact data on fish populations is revealed where the conservation department removes all the fish of a lake with toxicants in order to establish a "better fish balance."

All fish were removed from a 9-acre lake in Green Lake county and the department found 237,000 bullheads. 1,467 pounds of bullheads per surface acre, a record poundage for this region. The density was four fish for every cubic foot of water. The density was too much for good growth and most of the fish were small.

Perch Size Rule Changed

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The size of perch fillets sold by commercial fishermen will no longer be a factor in the enforcement of the commercial fishing laws.

The conservation commission has repealed all references to minimum sizes for perch fillets. Only the fish size will be used as the basis for regulations in the future. The 8-inch minimum size for northern Green Bay and Lake Michigan, the 7 1/2-inch minimum for southern Green Bay and the 8-inch rule for Lake Superior are unchanged.

Local Hunters Get Four Bucks

The north country has no monopoly on good hunting. If you don't believe it just ask Appleton's Robert Deyo what he thinks about deer hunting in Buffalo, Wyoming.

Deyo, Howard B. Hawley, Neenah, Orville Hendrickson and William Greenfield, both of Oshkosh, spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Don Burdick, former Black Creek residents who operate a guest ranch near Buffalo.

They returned with four mule deer bucks and a carload of praise for this game-rich mountain area. "The distances you have to shoot are deceiving," Deyo says, "and your target often appears much closer than it actually is." One thing is certain, Deyo declares, there is plenty of deer.

"We had no trouble getting our bucks," he said. "It was mostly a matter of picking out the ones we wanted. "The hunting in that part of Wyoming is considerably easier than hunting in northern Wisconsin. The only actual obstruction to walking is the hills. You have little or no underbrush to consider and, if you choose, you can always use a horse." Mild Temperature Deyo said temperatures were mild. "We hunted in our shirt sleeves for the most part. It gets cool at night but by 7 o'clock in the morning the sun comes out and after that it's warm."

One of the big differences in Wyoming hunting from that here in Wisconsin is the distance, Deyo said. "I shot my buck at about 250 yards and had to hold a foot high on him. Maybe it's the thin air but you have to revise your automatic

Fox Cities Area Hunters Take Part in Bountiful Hunt

Among Fox Cities area hunters who have participated in the bountiful 1958 deer harvest is a serviceman home on leave.

Wesley A. Grambsch, Neenah, an apprentice seaman stationed at the Norfolk naval school, shot a spiked buck the first morning of the season in the Hazelhurst area (Oneida county).

Another sign that the hunting has been good came as every one of a party of four "filled" the first morning in the Wolf area near Stephenville. The hunters are Bob Gable, Lee Hoyer and 14-year-old Dave Hoyer, all of Appleton; and Vern Lapp, Stephenville.

Several Appletonians in the same party were successful in the Pembine area. The biggest buck (214 pounds) was shot by Ralph Raiche. Others who bagged their deer were Ray Wichman, Norbert Poupore, Len DeWall, LeRoy

Hunting Dog Can Take Just So Much

Lansing, Mich. — Robert Huff says his dog pointed grouse six times during a recent hunting trip.

Huff missed his shot every time. After the sixth miss the dog disappeared and returned with a live grouse in his mouth.

"Apparently," says Huff, "he was trying to show me what one looked like close up."

Record Flounder

Warwick, R.I. — Charles Martorelli today boasted a certificate from the International Game Fish association that the 16-pound flounder he caught last Aug. 14 represents the 12-pound line test class world record for that fish.

Wyoming Deer Big, Plentiful

The north country has no monopoly on good hunting. If you don't believe it just ask Appleton's Robert Deyo what he thinks about deer hunting in Buffalo, Wyoming.

One of the big differences in Wyoming hunting from that here in Wisconsin is the distance, Deyo said. "I shot my buck at about 250 yards and had to hold a foot high on him. Maybe it's the thin air but you have to revise your automatic way of shooting. It just won't work in Wyoming."

The mule deer the group brought back range in size about equal to Wisconsin deer. The color is more to the gray shade, however.

Deyo had this advice for any local hunters planning a hunting trip to Wyoming: Write ahead of time to the department of conservation at Cheyenne for your permit and reservation. A non-resident deer license costs $20. A non-resident antelope license costs $25. You can get a combination license covering elk, deer, bear and fishing for $100. Antelope is not included in the combination deal.

The Burdicks, who at one time operated a furniture store and funeral home in Black Creek, operate "the ranch at the base of the horn, at Buffalo. They have another ranch on the Crazy Women river.

Knowles Boom For Governor In '60 Seen

Made Best Run of Major Republicans In Democrat Sweep

BY JOHN WYNGAARD Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The first signs of a boom for Warren P. Knowles, narrowly defeated for lieutenant governor, as a candidate for Republican senate majority leader and as lieutenant governor, made the best run of any major GOP candidate against the Democratic sweep in the Nov. 4 balloting. The fact has been widely noted by politicians and political observers. As conversations turn to the 1960 campaigns, Knowles is being mentioned more and more frequently.

Knowles lost to Phil Lee Nash by a spare 6,148 votes. This is interpreted by politicians as making of him a front rank contender for party leadership in the future if he desires to undertake the role.

By comparison, the defeat of Gov. Thomson by Gaylord Nelson of Madison was decisive.

The retiring lieutenant governor is aware of speculations about him, but is noncommittal. While he has not visited the capitol since the elections, close friends report he intends to continue an active political role as far as that is compatible with his work as a lawyer.

One disadvantage is that Knowles lives in a relatively remote part of the state, New Richmond. He also will lose his forum as a state official, but most other possible Republican contenders for the 1960 nomination will return to private life, also.

The Knowles name will stay in the limelight at Madison, however, with the probable rise in rank in the Republican senate caucus of his brother, Sen. Robert Knowles. The younger Knowles is expected to be named assistant to Floor-leader Robert Travis, Platteville, when the Republicans organize the senate in January.

Capitol observers are recalling, meanwhile, that Knowles was once regarded widely as the probable heir to the Republican gubernatorial nomination after the retirement of former Gov. Walter J. Kohler in 1956.

Kohler Friend Knowles and Kohler were close friends, and Kohler had apparently encouraged Knowles in the belief that he would succeed to the nomination.

But Thomson won the attorney generalship in 1950, and had campaigned so vigorously during the succeeding six years that he had an overwhelming majority of Republican state convention delegates friendly to him when the party endorsement was voted.

Until the final roll call, however, Thomson had regarded Knowles as a rival and the relations of the lieutenant governor and the attorney general during most of 1956 were considerably cooled as a consequence.

$600 Taken From Safe

Kaukauna Police Investigate Theft At Grain Elevator

Kaukauna — Police are investigating the theft of about $600 from a safe at Knauf and Tesch grain elevator, 412 Draper street. The burglary occurred sometime Friday night.

The burglars snapped off a lock on a door leading into a grain bin and made their way to an inside door to an office. They broke a window to reach a lock on the office door, police said.

The outside door on the safe was peeled and the money removed from a tin cash box. About $200 in change was taken. The remainder was in bills and checks.

Attempted burglary also was reported at the H. T. Runtz company, 166 W. Wisconsin avenue. The burglars tried to break the locks, but no entry was made.

Ask Council To Turn Down 2-Acre Buy

Industrial Growth Committee Cites $11,800 Price Tag

The city council will be asked to turn down two acres adjacent to the city industrial park because of an $11,800 price tag.

Members of the council's industrial development committee will make the request at the Dec. 3 council meeting.

The land, situated in a 63-foot-wide strip to the north of the park on S. Perkins street, is owned by George B. Vanden Heuvel, 1103 S. Perkins. Vanden Heuvel sought $12,600 for the parcel last January.

The industrial park was purchased by council action in January for $58,365 plus interest. It has about 39 acres. The city intends to resell the land at cost to expanding industries.

Need Railroad Help

City Atty. Jury was ordered May 7 to begin proceedings to annex the park so that sewer and water service could be extended to it, but it was discovered in August that a strip of railroad right-of-way lies between the city limits and the park, forestalling annexation.

Negotiations with Chicago and North Western Railway law practice in Madison when for annexation of the right-of-way strip immediately were partitioned to resume his status as private citizen in January, for annexation has been re-opened although there have been indications the railroad is willing.

Meantime, committees of Appleton Industrial Development corporation have begun to study methods of park development publicizing the park's existence.

Seek Joint Meeting

Two industrialists, William E. Buchanan, of Appleton Wire Works, Inc., and John M. Hayes, of Appleton Manufacturing company, expressed interest last February in obtaining space in the park.

Both were reported interested in constructing warehouses that could be utilized for production facilities in the future.

Zingsheim Denies Charge

Says He Did Not Conspire With Catlin Against Public

Dick Zingsheim, defeated Democratic candidate for assembly, this morning denied he ever conspired with Mark Catlin, defeated Republican candidate for the same post, against the public interest.

The charges were leveled Zingsheim during a county GOP meeting Thursday by Gordon Bubolz, a supporter of the winning candidate, Kenneth Priebe. Priebe, defeated by Catlin in the primary, ran on the Independent ticket.

Said Zingsheim: "The election laws of Wisconsin provide for a primary and general election. In the primary each party elects one candidate, not two. Again, if the public interest is a complete disregard of the choice of the voters in the primary, it makes evident the waste of public money by having a primary."

"If people like Bubolz choose to disregard the results of the primary, let us discontinue the primary election — it proves nothing."

"The smear advertisement (Bubolz said Catlin and Zingsheim conspired to issue such an ad) of which Bubolz has accused me seems to be his favorite escape mechanism. Anytime the truth hurts Mr. Bubolz he shouts 'smear.' At no time during the campaign did I work against the public interest and at no time in the next one shall I."

France Not Dying Land, Priest States

Lawrence Speaker Predicts Long Life For His Homeland

"France is not a dying country and will outlive some of her critics," the Rev. Guilleme de Berthier de Sauvigny, C. J. S., told an audience of Lawrence college students.

The French historian, now on leave from the faculty of the Catholic Institute of Paris to teach at the University of Notre Dame, argued that France is "badly handicapped by her history," and that most of her current woes can be traced to events a century or two old.

First he asked, "Why do the French people lack that sense of civic responsibility which is the working force of American and British brands of democracy?"

He gave seven reasons for the individualistic French national temper "in which everyone seems to be fighting everyone."

The deepest is that the French population, more than any other in the old world, is "a cocktail of all kinds of races and ethnic features—Celts, Iberians, Germans, Slavs, Arabs, Mediterraneans, Scandinavians and even Mongolians. There is no French race and the minds are as different as the physical traits; there is no predictable French reaction to a given situation."

Geographically, every single small village has its original aspect, slowly moulded by history, as opposed to the United States, where, as the clergyman said, "nature is big, but Main street looks about the same, due to mass production."

The French are historically a nation of peasants, and still show distrust of taxes, social welfare projects, and officialdom.

"It is an article of faith that money that goes to the state can only be squandered on lazy and worthless officials, or on wasteful projects," Father de Berthier said.

"This disposition has been fed and made worse by the excess of centralized state control upon local administration, a result of the Napoleonic system," the speaker continued.

The sacred character of the law and the authority of the state have suffered deeply from the succession of different regimes and periodical revolutions which the French people have known in the last 150 years, he said. He quoted de Tocqueville in saying, "There are no revolutions which do not shake the old beliefs, weaken authority, and confuse common ideas. Men are only bound by interests and no more by ideas, and it would seem that human opinions form only an intellectual dust agitated in every direction, without being able to gather and to settle."

Court Hears Arguments on Integrated Bar

Announces Findings Will be Published By End of Year

Madison — The state supreme court heard arguments Friday for and against integration of the bar in Wisconsin, and promised findings by Dec. 30.

The court will decide at that time if the integrated bar should be permanent.

The court, in December of 1956, ordered integration on a tentative basis. Under it, all attorneys in Wisconsin must belong to the state bar and pay dues. Formerly there was the state bar association and members in it was voluntary.

Arguments were given by several attorneys. The court had asked arguments to determine how the integrated bar had worked out in its nearly two years of operation.

In addition to those who spoke, several attorneys submitted briefs.

Charge Rights Violated
Opponents of integration contended that it violates private and property rights under state and federal constitutions and that efforts for a rank and file vote of attorneys on integration had been resisted by officers of the bar.

Robert D. Johns, La Crosse, representing the bar, urged continuation of it with only minor changes in operation.

Brooke Tibbs, Milwaukee, who said he spoke for several other attorneys of the Milwaukee area, said the board of governors of the bar had resisted all efforts to have a poll of membership taken on the issue.

T. L. Lathrop, Milwaukee, charged that integration was "forcing lawyers to accept decisions imposed on them."

He said that integration was following the political precepts of "Machiavelli and Rudolph Hess rather than that of Thomas Jefferson."

Johns said that "obligation to integration was negligible." He denied that the board had resisted a plan to poll the membership.

These Days:

U. S. Hate Groups Seize Upon Court Integration Ruling

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York—It was bound to happen that the Supreme Court decisions concerning integration, as it is called, would have ugly overtones.

Already Little Rock has become a symbolic term and is an inalienable item in world affairs.

Sokolsky

Already, within this country, the question of integration of a school system has not one of the new methods are subordinated in many minds devastating without even the

to the broader problem of social assimilation.

The time is wrong for dissension among the American people because we face a formidable foe who is making war upon us by new methods. And as long as the enemy limits himself to new methods, many elements among the American people do not recognize the nature of this war and believe that they can afford to pursue their ordinary problems of living. To suggest that we are at war is like saying a dirty word. Nevertheless, we are at war and the question of integration of a school system has not one of the new methods are subordinated in many minds devastating without even the appearance of shooting. One of these is divisive propaganda and to it the communists have devoted themselves in every country.

The opposition to the Negro, which is rising beyond the question of integration, is based upon a widespread opposition to racial intermarriage, which is generally termed mongrelization. This opposition appears on both sides of the racial equation, and while there are some who longer exist. The normal fact is that it needs to be discussed because it is a norm not the schools but intermarriage.

Most people, of a kind, prefer their own kind. You might relate it to the ancient dictum, "birds of a feather flock together," or you might use rather old-fashioned phrase, community of kind—the fact is that all over the world, in every stage of civilization, those who marry "out" are not favored.

Opposition Normal

In the United States, this has been true to the degree that a number of states have laws forbidding miscegenation which is an early form of South African apartheid. Opposition to any form of intermarriage, Catholic with Protestant, Jew with Christian Negro and white, is normal in American life. It used to be objectionable for a southerner to marry a Yankee, but that was temporary and no longer exists. The normal fact is that it needs to be discussed because it is a norm not the schools but intermarriage.

As anti-Negroism increases, particularly in the North and anti-Semitic movements also expand. Particularly astonishing is the depth of anti-Catholicism at this particular moment. Perhaps what bothers the anti-Catholics most is their fear that a Catholic might become president of the United States. Both Jews and Catholics are blamed for integration. The main argument against the Catholics is that their parochial schools are integrated; the argument against Jews is that the supreme court is dominated by Jews who favor mongrelization.

It needs to be pointed out that whereas the bishops can speak officially for the Catholic church in the United States, no organization is empowered to speak officially for American Jews who have never chosen such an organization or accepted one.

Christmas Seal Sale Scheduled

The fifty-second annual Christmas Seal sale will be held through December. Funds obtained are used to combat tuberculosis in the community from which they are collected.

The purchase of Christmas seals aids in paying for chest X-rays to detect tuberculosis, lung cancer and heart ailments; the skin tests administered in the fourth, eighth and 12th grades to find students infected with the TB germ; health education on the cause, cure and prevention of TB; and medical research.

This year one of the most vital phases of the drive will be the collection of funds to share in the purchase of a new mobile X-ray unit due to the

Cub Scout Awards

Bobcat pins have been presented to 34 new members of cub pack 1 of St. Joseph school. Other awards included a troop leaders award, a lion badge, six bear badges, seven wolf badges, one gold and silver arrow badge, one silver arrow badge, five gold arrows on the wolf badge, four silver arrows on the wolf badge, six 1-year service badges, eight 2-year service badges, one dinner stripe and one assistant dinner award.

the irreparable condition of the old bus.

In its 10 years of service the unit has screened nearly a half million persons in 63 Wisconsin counties. Last year over 50 persons who had been X-rayed by the unit were admitted to sanatoriums in Wisconsin.

5,664 Receive Chest X-Rays At State Bus

A total of 5,664 people received X-rays when the state board of health mobile unit was in Appleton in October.

According to a report given to the Visiting Nurse association board of directors Thursday morning, the total was 1,500 more than were X-rayed when the clinic last was in the city about three years ago. The VNA made arrangements for its stay here.

Readings of the X-rays are in the process of being sent out from Madison and a final report on the findings probably won't be ready for a few weeks.
